Strong Note on Palestine Stand Is Sent to Truman

British Press Predicts Wave of Terror Incidents in Holy Land as Result of U. S. President's Immigration Demand

London, Oct. 5 (AP)—The British Foreign Office confirmed today that Prime Minister Attlee had sent a note—a strong one, it hinted—in reply last night to President Truman's demand for immediate and substantial Jewish immigration into Palestine.

As the British press predicted a new wave of terror over the Holy Land as a result of the President's statement, a foreign-office spokesman, disclosing the note had been sent, said it was "personal" and he did not expect that it would be made public.

He said Britain was "puzzled" to learn that Mr. Truman had acted so "precipitately" and that the President did not accept the decision of the government bearing "the responsibility for Palestine."

Thus the spokesman underlined the view that Britain under its League of Nations mandate remains in sole control of Palestine and has no obligation to accept suggestions made by the United States or any other outside power.

Last night, an official speaking for the Prime Minister said flatly that Mr. Truman's statement "may well jeopardize" British-sponsored negotiations to determine Palestine's future.

Earlier the Foreign Office said Britain would not act upon Truman's appeal "until the whole political future" of Palestine was settled. The President had said that further immigration could not await a settlement.

Quick and Sharp

By diplomatic standards, Britain's statements were quick and sharp and some London diplomatic

2,135 Register In City First Day

Polls Will Remain Open Until 10 P. M.; Tops 1945 Figures

Kingston's first day of registration for the November election closed last night with a total registration of 2,135. Today is the second registration day, and the polls will remain open until 10 o'clock this evening.

In 1945 the first day's registration was 2,040, and the total for the four days, 12,473.

The year 1944 was a presidential year and was reflected in the increased registration in the city. On the first day that year the total registered was 4,132. The total registration for the four days was 15,294, an increase of 2,821 more than the 1945 registration.

Registration by districts in the city yesterday, according to figures filed with the police department, follows:

First Ward	208
Second Ward, First Dist.	101
Second Ward, Second Dist.	226
Third Ward, First Dist.	75
Third Ward, Second Dist.	121
Fourth Ward, First Dist.	72

Boy Suffers Cuts As Bike Hits Car

Ronald J. Diamond, 12, of West [illegible] street, suffered cuts to his [illegible] knee that required several [illegible] to close Friday afternoon, when his bicycle collided with an automobile operated by Clarence H. [illegible] of 46 Downs street, according to a police report.

The driver in reporting the accident said he had parked his auto on Broadway near Abeel street, at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and that as he opened the left door to alight from the car the boy riding his bicycle crashed into the open door, and was thrown to the pavement.

The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Eight on Spring street, where it was found necessary to take several stitches to close the wound in the leg.

Restaurant Owners Are Satisfied at Prices Decision

Clark Says They Will Be Passed On to Patrons Only in Some Instances

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Restaurant owners accepted with satisfaction today O.P.A.'s decision that they may increase prices of meat meals up to 15 per cent next Thursday.

Walter F. Clark, president of the National Restaurant Association, predicted that now they had made their point, many will not take advantage of the full increase.

"Only in some cases where restaurants have had to absorb higher costs will they be passed on to the consumer," Clark said. But he expressed gratification that "we have been able to show O.P.A. some adjustment was necessary."

In abandoning its attempt to hold the price of meat meals at the June 30 level, O.P.A. announced late yesterday it had acted "to restore the prices of restaurant meat offerings to their normal relationship to the prices of other meals."

Under the new price order, when the increase is applied to a meat offering which costs 20 cents or more the price will be computed to the nearest nickel. Thus a 30-cent sandwich will go up to 35 cents, not 34½. On charges of less than 20 cents, the prices will be raised in even cents.

O.P.A. said it would have revised regulations ready next Tuesday. These also will change the present method of computing ceilings on meals built around entrees

Upstate Registration Takes On Appearance of '43 Totals

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Upstate voters registered for the November 5 election in numbers approximately the 1942 first-day turnout.

The comparison with figures for the last gubernatorial year was by no means uniform through the state, however. Buffalo, for example, with an increase of more than 10,000, was roughly 1/3 ahead of the 1942 total. Rochester had a 20 per cent increase, while a drop was recorded in Democratic Albany, seat of the Republican government where most of the candidates have been campaigning publicly.

All cities checked reported totals far below those of 1944, the last presidential year.

As personal registration continued today, party leaders predicted a substantial increase in the four-day aggregate, because of high interest in the major contests. U. S. Senator James M. Mead is out to topple Governor Dewey in a fight regarded as a test of the Republican governor's presidential strength. Former Governor Herbert H. Lehman and former Assembly Republican Leader Irving M. Ives seek Mead's Senate seat. Albany's Democratic mayor, ex-G.I. Erastus Corning, is pitted against Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley.

In Buffalo, 43,633 voters registered yesterday, as against 32,960 in 1942. The figures for Rochester were 25,608 and 20,227. The unofficial tally for Cohoes also was higher—2,126, compared with 1,997, and Salamanca showed an increase—794, compared with 649.

Albany went down from 18,126 to 17,571, and Troy dropped from 5,768 to 5,343.

Schenectady election boards found registration "good and heavy," it was "light," or "normal," in Syracuse, a party leader said, but a flood of telephone queries indicated heightening interest: Ithaca had a "normal" turnout.

All upstate had fine weather, and the sun will shine again today, the weather bureau predicts.

Voters who wish to cast ballots in cities and towns of 5,000 or more must appear before election officials this week-end or next to be eligible. Registration continues today, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., and will be resumed next Friday and Saturday.

In rural communities, where persona' registration is required of new voters and non-veterans seeking absentee ballots, the polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. today, and from 1 p. m. to 10 next Saturday. New York city and Westchester county will have personal registration all next week, except on Sunday.

Gay Calls It Worst In 37 Years

C.A.B. Chief Visits Stephenville Crash in Which 39 Died; Only 2 Bodies Found

Nolan Gives Story

Fire Marshal Tells How He Went to Spot Soon After Crash

Stephenville, Nfld., Oct. 5 (AP)—Veteran investigators of the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board sifted the bits and pieces of a giant four-engined airliner today trying to learn why the craft hurtled head-on into a 1,200-foot wall of rock Thursday morning, smashing 39 persons to death.

"It is the worst in my 37 years experience," said George Gay, regional C.A.B. chief, after visiting the scene of the tragedy.

From eye-witness accounts and the flame-fused remnants of the American Overseas liner the probers fashioned this version of the crash, the worst in commercial aviation history. The plane was a DC4 Douglas Skymaster. It had stopped overnight at Harmon Field on the southwestern coast of Newfoundland because of bad weather at Gander airport, across the island.

A crew of eight and 31 passengers were aboard. The tanks had been filled with 2,900 gallons of high octane gasoline for the long overseas hop to Shannon, Eire.

The ship took off at 5:30 a. m., Newfoundland time, about 30 minutes before dawn. The ceiling was 5,000 feet with 10 miles visibility.

The plane used a runway pointing in a northeasterly direction toward a range of rock capped mountains eight miles distant, which range up to 1,200 and 1,500 feet.

Craft Rises Normally

Ground crews watched the craft rise normally, with an estimated 150 feet of altitude before it reached the end of the runway. The ship continued to gain altitude and held to a straight course. Suddenly a great billow flame flared into the sky and cascaded down the stone face of the mountain. There had been no indication the ship had been in trouble.

Lieut. Robert A. Nolan of Dunn-Loring, Va., fire marshal at Harmon, left immediately in a crash truck with eight Newfoundland firemen and Sgt. Glen Baker of Oklahoma City.

"The sky was so red and the flame was so big we thought it was very near" he said. "But we had to walk eight miles after we left the truck."

Two Bodies Found

Led by a Newfoundland hunting guide familiar with mountain trails in the vicinity Nolan and his party reached the wreck in three and one half hours.

"We could only find two bodies, one was a man the other a woman. She had a purse and there was a handkerchief with Peggy on it," Nolan said.

The bodies have been identified as Joseph Percy of Woodmere, N. Y., and Helen Kent Downing of Thompson, Ga.

"There just wasn't a trace of anyone else," said Nolan, gesturing blankly with his hands. "It was awful. Two sacks of mail had been thrown quite a way from the plane. They weren't even scorched."

Flight experts calculating the ship's altitude and distance from the take-off point estimated the speed at 150 miles per hour.

"It seemed to have hit just under the lip of the cliff," Nolan said. "About 50 feet more and the plane would have been clear."

Woman Killed in Fall

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—A woman, identified by police as Mrs. Zoe C. Price, 70, was killed early today when she fell or jumped from a kitchen window in her 13th story, four-room apartment at 330 West 72nd street, police reported. Tenants in the building summoned house attendants after, they said, they heard a scream and heard a body fall into a rear courtyard. Patrolman John O'Keefe and an ambulance from Knickerbocker Hospital were summoned. The woman was pronounced dead by an ambulance surgeon. Police said they were told the woman had been under medical treatment for some time and had lived alone. Police said they found two notes and a letter, all sealed, in the apartment bedroom.

Schacht, Fritsche Are Spirited From Nuernberg Jail

American, German Police 'Protect' Pair; Are in Private Houses in City

By THOMAS A. REEDY

Nuernberg, Oct. 5 (AP)—Hjalmar Schacht and Hans Fritsche were spirited out of the Palace of Justice Jail during the night and hidden from the public in private residences in downtown Nuernberg.

The two were "protected" by American and German police, who had orders from the American military government to keep visitors away from their refuge.

The former Nazi financier and radio broadcaster were released without advance notice shortly before midnight and whisked in jeeps to homes obtained for them by United States Army authorities.

Schacht, Fritsche and Franz von Papen, one-time Nazi diplomat, were aquitted Tuesday by an International Military Tribunal which convicted 19 other high Nazis here of war crimes, sentencing 12 to hang.

Clemency pleas were filed for Hermann Goering, Walter Funk, Karl Doenitz, Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Alfred Gustav Jodl and the S.D. (spy organization) just before the 2:45 p. m. deadline [illegible] day.

This made 11 individuals and three organizations that had pleaded for lighter sentences. The final decision is up to the Allied Control Council in Berlin.

Are Under Sentence

Goering, Seyss-Inquart and Jodl are under sentence of hanging. Funk was sentenced to life imprisonment and Doenitz to 10 years in prison.

Pleas adready had been filed on behalf of Martin Bormann, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frick, Julius Streicher and Alfred Rosenberg, sentenced to hang, and Rudolf Hess, sentenced to life imprisonment. Bormann, tried in absentia, is missing.

Von Papen remained in jail today. His appeal for permission to enter the French occupation zone was denied yesterday by the French military government. He asked officials to try to arrange for his entry into the British zone, where he originally was arrested as Germany collapsed.

The British army, however, announced at Herford yesterday that it would not let any of the three acquitted Nazis into its occupation zone.

Schacht and his wife went to a house on Frelingstrasse and the aging financier spent the morning pacing up and down, trying to decide what to do next.

Leo Stahl, German police chief, arrested Schacht some time after midnight, it was learned, but freed him immediately because a proper warrant had not been prepared.

The chief said police would arrest both "later," when American guards had been withdrawn.

Police Are Told to 'Protect'

Military police were instructed to protect the former high Nazis from "mob violence."

German police were told to keep the pair from wandering around the city, lest they be arrested immediately and taken before a denazification court.

Fritsche stayed in the home of his attorney, Heinz Fritz. Early today he tried to give himself up to German police, but U. S. M.P.'s would not let him leave the house.

Chinese Get Radiophoto Pictures for First Time

Shanghai, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Associated Press brought to China yesterday the first radiophoto news pictures in history.

They appeared this morning in China's largest newspaper, Shanghai's Sin Wan Pao, which hailed them as historic in Chinese journalism.

The picture showed Goering and Hess hearing their sentences at Nuernberg, and the Trucuient Turtle landed at Columbus, Ohio, after its record non-stop flight from Australia.

The pictures, transmitted from San Francisco to Shanghai by press wireless as a test, caused great excitement in the Shanghai press.

Shanghai newspapers hitherto have received their foreign pictures in anywhere from a week to 10 days after the event.

Thirteen Changes Are Involved in Recent Shift; Forecast in 1945

London, Oct. 5 (AP)—Political sources predicted today that A. V. Alexander, former first lord of the admiralty, would become Britain's new minister of defense, a separate ministry emerging from last night's shakeup of the British cabinet, the first since the Labor government took office more than a year ago.

Alexander was named minister without portfolio in the cabinet shuffle, which involved 13 changes, presumably to make him available for the post, which would head up Britain's army, navy and airforce. The new minister of defense would act as the prime minister's deputy in integrating the work of the three services.

The cabinet shuffle was forecast in 1945 when Prime Minister Attlee promised the Labor party to review his cabinet after 12 months with the view to putting younger men in top places.

The shakeup resulted in the removal of the two department heads most directly concerned with Palestine. War Secretary J. Lawson leaves the government entirely, while Colonial Secretary George Hall has been shifted to the admiralty to succeed Alexander. Hall was made a viscount in the shift.

It appeared, possible, in the light of these developments that one reason for Attlee's appeal Thursday night for President Truman to postpone his proposal on Palestine may have been a fear of misinterpretation abroad of its being timed to coincide with the cabinet changes.

There was no indication that the timing was other than accidental. The new defense set-up has long been planned, as was evidenced by an announcement in a white paper, and there have been hints in the press for weeks of impending cabinet changes.

State Police Plan To Drag Waters

Belief Is Two Persons Drown at Copake Lake; Car Found

Hudson, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—State police planned to drag Copake Lake today in the belief that two persons had been drowned there Thursday night.

Sgt. E. F. Merkle said lakeshore residents had heard cries for help late at night. An overturned boat and a Navy pea jacket were found afloat. No one was around a cottage where two persons apparently had been living, and nearby was an automobile registered in the name of Fannie M. Shaw of (34 N. Hamilton St.) Poughkeepsie, Merkle added.

Not Heard From

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Two Poughkeepsie men who went to Copake Lake near Hudson, N. Y., Thursday to fish have not been heard from since.

State police at Hudson said lakeshore residents heard cries for help late that night and there were indications two persons had drowned. An overturned boat was found on the lake and no one was around the cottage where two persons apparently had been living.

The Poughkeepsie men are Vincent E. Holt, 40, father of three children, and Edward Mullen, 22, unmarried war veteran.

Holt has a cottage at the Copake Lake and is a son-in-law of Fannie M. Shaw of Poughkeepsie, owner of the automobile found near the lake.

Holt is a stereotyper on the Poughkeepsie New Yorker and Mullen is an apprentice.

Five U. S. Vessels Will Visit Chile

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Five American war ships, including the super battleship Wisconsin, will go to Chile for the inauguration of President-elect Gabriel Gonzalez Videla November 4-5.

The Navy announced today that in addition to the 45,000-ton Wisconsin the group will include the 27,000-ton carrier Leyte and the destroyers Massey, Douglas H. Fox and Joseph P. Kennedy.

The Navy said it will decide later whether the group will pay "courtesy calls" on other Latin-American nations en route to Chile.

Assessor Reports Property Value Here $23,890,326

Increase Is $290,244 Over 1945 Assessments; Figure Reaches Record High

Kingston's assessed valuation of real estate reached an all time high this year of $23,890,326, an increase of $290,244 over the 1945 assessments of $23,600,082, according to figures compiled by City Assessor James H. Betts.

The city assessor said today that the increase in assessed valuations was due to new building construction, and increased assessments on mercantile property owing to increased valuation as reflected by higher rents.

There have been no increases noted on old dwellings, except where considerable improvements have been made to the property or to bring the assessment in line with adjoining properties.

The work of compiling the assessment roll for this year was recently completed by City Assessor Betts.

Talmadge Is Ill

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 5 (AP)—Eugene Talmadge, nominee for a fourth term as Georgia's governor, remained under observation today at St. Vincent's Hospital here where he was brought after being stricken with a stomach hemorrhage. Herman Talmadge, son of the 62-year- three times Georgia chief executive, said last night attending physicians told him his father's blood pressure, blood count and temperature were "normal." "I see no reason," the younger Talmadge said, "why he should not make a quick recovery."

Hull Shows Gain

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull showed some slight improvement overnight, the navy reported today. Hull, who suffered a stroke in Bethesda Naval Hospital Monday, was reported this morning to have had "a more comfortable night." At 9 a. m. (E.S.T.) bulletin from the hospital said: "Mr. Hull had a more comfortable night and shows slight improvement this morning."

Contingents Will Go To Albany Monday

Contingents for immediate induction into the armed forces and for pre-induction physical examinations, will be sent to the induction center in Albany on Monday by the four draft boards of Ulster county.

The quotas assigned to the boards to fill call for 20 men for pre-induction tests, and 20 for induction.

The contingents will leave the Central Post Office building on Broadway at 10 o'clock Monday morning, making the trip to Albany by bus.

REGISTER TONIGHT

Today is the second day of registration in the city of Kingston. The polls will be open until 10 o'clock tonight.

Register tonight and be sure of your right to vote at the general election in November. If you are not registered you cannot vote.

Do it tonight and get this important duty over, since something might happen to prevent you from registering on the two final days next week.

Bus Strikes Truck Near N. Y. Bridge

Hudson Transit Short Line Bus Driver Is Tossed Through Glass and Run Over

Pleaded With Man

Brooklyn Woman Tells Police She, Another Asked Less Speed

Four persons were killed and at least 35 injured, six critically, in the crash of an Ellenville-bound bus and a trailer-truck on Route 17 in Paramus, N. J., about 1:10 yesterday afternoon.

The bus was a Short Line bus operated by the Hudson Transit Company and was en route from the Dixie terminal in New York to Ellenville.

The bus was carrying 42 passenger when it crashed into the rear of a heavy truck, about 12 miles northwest of the George Washington Bridge. Many of the passengers were en route to the mountain resorts to observe the Yom Kippur services.

Ambulances from surrounding communities, augmented by private vehicles, took the victims to the Hackensack Hospital. The hospital said several of the injured were not expected to live.

Three Die Instantly

Killed instantly were the driver of the bus, Edward George Price, 21, of 113 Washington avenue, Suffern, N. Y.; Joseph Stamkevich, 64, of 2 Seaman avenue, New York; and an unidentified woman who was sitting with Mr. Stamkevich on the front seat opposite the driver and just behind the door. The four victim was identified only as Anna Beiber, who died after being brought to the Hackensack Hospital.

Critically injured was Philip Guido, 22, of 24 East Broadway, Hackensack, driver of the truck.

Among Those Hurt

Among those of this area critically injured and still held at the Hackensack Hospital last night were:

Jack Wiffen, 39 Montgomery street, Goshen, N. Y., (possible fractures of both legs, face lacerations).

Aimee Whiffen, 39 Montgomery street, Goshen, N. Y., (no diagnosis).

Anne Whiffen, 39 Montgomery street, Goshen, N. Y., (leg bruises).

Barnet Paulin, 128 Chestnut street, Napanoch, N. Y., (possible fractured spine, lacerations of the right side).

Sol Schonfeld, age 43, 1330 Franklin avenue, the Bronx, (left without treatment).

Max Budney, age 52, 435 Beach 36th street, Edgemere, L. I., (no diagnosis).

Dr. A. J. Shapiro, age 56, 109 Center street, Ellenville, N. Y., (discharged after treatment for contusions of the nose).

Joseph Brody, age 51, Kerhonkson, N. Y., (possible fractured nose and possible fracture right shoulder).

Fred Wertz, Ellenville, (contusion of the neck).

Pleaded for Less Speed

Mrs. Jennie Levine, 52, of 4711 Twelfth street, Brooklyn, listed among those in critical condition was nevertheless able to tell police last night that she and another passenger had "for some distance" pleaded with the driver to abate his speed. She was sitting in the seat directly behind the driver with Mrs. Sarah Kaufman, 53, of 1810 Avenue N, Brooklyn, and they both were frightened at the speed, she said.

"You're going too fast," they had told the driver, she recalled, "take it easy."

Mrs. Kaufman is still in the hospital, suffering from fractures of both legs.

Frank Guido of Paramus, N. J., who said he was standing on the running board of the truck, which was carrying a bulldozer, told the police the big vehicle was about to turn off the highway when he felt it lifted suddenly into the air.

He said he then saw that the

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Scouts Enjoy Hike

Boy Scout Troop No. 7 left St. John's Church last Saturday afternoon at 2:30 for a 14 mile hike to Echo Lake. They started at Meads Mountain House and walked along Overlook Mountain and then down to Echo Lake and back to Meads Mountain House on Sunday, arriving back to their starting point about 7 p. m., pretty tired but safe and sound.

All the boys enjoyed the trip immensely and are looking forward to the time of their next hike. The previous week the territory was covered and ground mapped out by Doc Harrington, Dick Cole, and Patrol Leaders Ted Hutton and Tom Walsh.

Those who made the trip were as follows: Al Kurdt, chairman troop committee; Dick Cole, committee man; Doc Harrington, scout master; Scouts Richard Schultz, Ted Hutton, Al Kurdt, Jr., Tom Walsh, Walt Bauschnagle, John Keator, Peter DeWitt, Orrin Smith, Emil Jordan.

Seven Scout Councils to Visit Area

On October 12 and 13, seven Boy Scout Councils are having an Explorer Scout Expedition to Mt. Wittenberg. Councils participating in the expedition are: Rockland county, Aheka, Ridgewook-Glen Rock, Alhtaha, Tamarack, Orange-Sullivan, and North Bergen county.

The Explorer Scouts will meet at the foot suspension bridge across the Esopus in Woodland Valley near Phoenicia and will camp overnight on top of Mt. Wittenberg. Senior Scouts of the Western District of the Ulster-Greene Council have been invited to participate and act as guides.

Sunday morning, Scouts of Catholic faith will leave early enough to attend Mass in Phoenicia and efforts are now being made to secure a Protestant service on the banks of the Esopus.

In the event of inclement weather this expedition will be held the following week-end.

According to Ronald G. Pannell, Scout executive of the Ridgewood-Glen Rock Council, there will be about one hundred senior Scouts participating in this exploration hike.

While local Scouts enjoy climbing the many mountain peaks of the Catskills the year around, it is worthy of note that the Boy Scouts from quite a distance look to this area for the best type of camping and hiking.

Religious Radio Programs

Cooperating with Station WKNY the Kingston Ministerial Association will sponsor the following programs of Christian faith and life over the air during the coming week:

Beginning tomorrow and each Sunday thereafter during October and November from 11 to 12 o'clock, the morning service of worship from St. James Methodist Church. The Rev. W. Wesley Williams will be the preacher.

Each day, except Sunday, at 7:35 a. m., five-minute transcribed program, "Victorious Living," a production of the International Council of Religious Education.

Devotions, Monday through Friday, at 8:45 a. m., conducted by the following clergymen: Monday, the Rev. George Berens of the Port Ewen Reformed Church; Tuesday, the Rev. Dr. William Ward Ayer of Calvary Baptist Church, New York special preacher in evangelistic meetings of Clinton Avenue Methodist and First Baptist Churches; Wednesday, the Rev. Dr. Fred H. Deming, former pastor of Trinity Methodist Church; Thursday, the Rev. Robert G. Dickson of the Hurley Reformed Church; Friday, the Rev. Dr. William Ward Ayer. Saturday at the same hour, the Sunday school lesson for the following day will be presented by the Rev. Osterhoudt Phillips of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church.

Bad News for Gowns

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Bad news, gals. The Civilian Production Administration is an old Indian giver. It takes back last Wednesday, decision to remove the limit on length and sweep of evening gowns. After having a look at rayon and cotton supplies, the C.P.A. announced last night the old limits will have to do a few months longer. These are 44 to 46 inches in length, depending on size, and 90 to 288 inches in sweep, depending on fabric.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Oct. 5 — Miss Jane Pfiffer of New York is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Otis Wright, who is ill.

Recent callers in the village included John Schultz, an employee of the Telephone Co. for the past 19 years.

Local farmers find their corn not quite as hard as they would like to have it, but they are going ahead with the cutting anyway, what with the frost being pretty heavy these nights.

Elder Arnold H. Bellows, pastor of the Baptist Church, is much pleased with the wide circulation attained by his book of verse, "The Legend of Utsayantha." The brochure has been accepted at Harvard and several other universities and is also being sent to foreign countries in the educational movement to acquaint foreign peoples with American history.

Sunday, Oct. 5, 1884, was a sacramental occasion in the Shokan Dutch Church in the old village. New members received at this service were Mrs. Russell Eckert and George M. Davis, both of whom were farmers residing on the west side of the Esopus Creek.

Sam Cohen, who last month went to Tucson, Ariz., writes to his Ashokan relatives that life in the southwest has improved his health.

Callers at the Winchell farm house Sunday included Mrs. George Knickerbocker and four children of Peekskill. Miss Betty Knickerbocker, who attended the local school several years ago, is now continuing her training as a nurse on an Indian reservation in Arizona, after having studied at the Yonkers Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Santi Nadal have returned home from a month's vacation motor trip.

The local rod and gun club now has 40 members, according to Alva Buley, Sr., president of the organization. The club has entered into an agreement with nearly all the large landowners in this section whereby these properties will be posted, while the local sportsmen reciprocally will endeavor to see that the fish and game laws are generally respected here. Club members also plan to campaign for a more liberal restocking of field and stream through the north reservoir country.

This boy may play a part in your future!

All Americans salute the American newspaper boy because of the demonstrated enterprise and leadership which some day may take him to your bedside as your doctor, to your stores as your merchant, to your courts as the prosecutor of evil and the defender of right. He could even be your President.

Whatever his ultimate role in life and how it affects your daily living, he is for the present the healthiest, most stimulating example of young America in action for the good of himself, his newspaper, his customers, his community, and his country.

The United States Treasury Department salutes him today on National Newspaper Boys Day because of his thrift . . . his mighty fine war record.

He made nearly two billion individual sales of war stamps when these sales counted on the scales of battle.

Today he is still doing a grand job for his country and for himself. Tens of thousands like him are members of the Treasury Department's Newspaper Boys Thrift Clubs.

Through their purchase of savings stamps, which they are turning into interest-bearing savings bonds, they are practicing thrift, accumulating substantial nest eggs for themselves.

They are doing their part in the national fight against inflation.

National Dinner Club Opens Season Wednesday With Dr. Sigmund Spaeth as First Speaker

Sigmund Spaeth will be the speaker for the first meeting of the Kingston National Dinner Club this season Wednesday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel. He has been called "America's most popular speaker and writer on music." Dr. Spaeth has served as music critic for various New York newspapers and national magazines and has written 21 books on music including, "Barber Shop Ballads," "Read 'em and Weep," "Guide to Great Orchestral Music," "At Home with Music," "Great Symphonies," "Music for Fun," and "Stories Behind the World's Great Music."

He is also the author of many song translations from various languages as well as original lyrics for such popular hits as "Down South," "Chansonette" (later known as the Donkey Serenade) and "My Little Nest." His compositions include the New York City anthem, "A Song for Freedom," and a choral setting of "Jabberwocky."

On the air, Dr. Spaeth is best known as the "Tune Detective," but he has also appeared as an expert on the Metropolitan Opera Quiz. His knack of tracing melodies to their source has created a constant demand for his services as a witness in suits claiming musical plagiarism.

SIGMUND SPAETH

Not new to this vicinity, Dr. Spaeth has appeared on programs in Kingston and Woodstock. His program is hard to describe for it combines humor and musical illustrations with solid information.

Y.W.C.A. News

This week has been a busy one for the Y-Teen department of the Y.W.C.A. All the high school clubs have had their initial meetings for the fall season.

St. Mary's Church was the setting this morning for the wedding of Miss Juletta E. Egan, daughter of Mrs. Frank Egan, 60 East Chester street, to Joseph I. Carey, son of Mrs. Joseph C. Carey of Brooklyn and High Falls. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock before a Nuptial Mass. The bridegroom's uncle, the Rev. Martin Tully of St. Martin of Tours Parish, Brooklyn, officiated.

Miss Patricia Keefe as soloist sang, "Panis Angelicus," "O, Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "Agnus Dei." Theodore Riccobono was organist. The church was decorated with white gladioli and candles.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Frank X. Egan. Her gown of eggshell slipper satin was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline caught with orange blossom clips; short puffed sleeves, straight bodice and long train. Her full length veil was attached to a lace cap and she wore long white kid gloves. She carried a prayer book with white orchid and shower arrangements of white pompons.

Miss Clare Egan was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a blue gown of French marquisette made with sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves edged with a ruffle. She wore a headpiece of pale blue ostrich tips and carried yellow and blue pompons. The bride's mother wore a pearl gray two piece wool dress with gray hat trimmed with matching plume. Her corsage was made of orchid pompons. The bridegroom's mother chose a dark grey two piece dress with gray hat and corsage of red roses.

Gerad Carey of Brooklyn, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Thomas Carey, cousin of the bridegroom; Andrew Tully, uncle of the bridegroom; John Byrne, brother-in-law of the bride, and James Egan, brother of the bride.

Following the service a wedding breakfast and reception for 100 guests was held at the Stuyvesant Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Carey left for a wedding trip to Maine. For traveling the bride wore a grey beige gabardine dressmaker suit with brown accessories and orchid corsage.

Mrs. Carey is a graduate of Kingston High School and St. Vincent's Hospital School of Nursing and attended St. John's University. She had been a member of the Kingston City Public Health Nursing Service for three and a half years.

Mr. Carey is a graduate of Brooklyn Preparatory School and Cornell University. He served with the U. S. Marine Corps three and a half years, two years of which were spent in the South Pacific area. He received his honorable discharge as a lieutenant in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey will make their home in High Falls where Mr. Carey owns a dairy farm.

Dr. O. L. Igou Organizes Community Symphony Orchestra at New Paltz State Teachers College

New Paltz, October 5 — Dr. O. Lincoln Igou, professor of music in the State Teachers College, has announced the organization of the Teachers College Community Symphony Orchestra. Rehearsals will be held each Monday evening from 7 to 9:30 in the band room at the Teachers College.

Professor Igou, who will direct the orchestra, has issued an invitation for all in this area interested in joining to come to the next rehearsal Monday night. A number of players are needed in the string section, and there are several openings in brass and wood winds.

Is is contemplated that the orchestra may eventually present four or five concerts during a season and possibly give repeat concerts in communities other than New Paltz.

In issuing his invitation to community members, Dr. Igou explained that the orchestra will play only standard symphonic music of a type and difficulty which the group will be able to play well after the usual series of rehearsals. There are a number who have expressed their desire to join the orchestra but are unable to do so because of a temporary shortage of instruments. Dr. Igou has suggested that perhaps there are instruments in the community which are not in use and whose owners might be willing to lend them to the orchestra until replacements become available. Instruments especially needed are a bass clarinet, a viola, a double bass and a bass viol.

Dr. Igou requested that anyone who is interested in joining the Community Orchestra but is without transportation to New Paltz on Monday evenings communicate with him at the Teachers College.

In June of this year Dr. Igou received his Ph. D. degree in music from Northwestern University, having previously earned at the same school a Master of Science degree in Education and a Bachelor's degree in Music Education. Professor Igou's training includes study of music theory and piano at the Conservatory of Music and the Institute of Musical Art in Detroit. At the Mozarteum Academy in Salzburg, Austria, the University of Vienna, and the Music Conservatory in Basel, Switzerland, he studied musicology and conducting under such noted figures as Bruno Walter and Felix Weingartner. He has been permanent conductor of the Shreveport Symphony Orchestra and has appeared as guest conductor of the Hartford and Bridgeport Symphony Orchestras. Immediately before entering the Army in 1943, he held the position of Associate Director of the University of Chicago Band. In the Army he was a member of the 354th Army Service Band, playing the French horn and at times acting as assistant conductor.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

Although it is true that formal dress is a much less customary exaction than it used to be, the mistake made by the writer of the following letter shows inexcusable lack of thought: "Recently my employer gave me two tickets to a supper dance given by a local organization at a fashionable hotel, which he could not go to. My best beau and I went and wore ordinary street clothes. Upon arriving we found everyone in the most formal evening clothes, so we left hurriedly. Don't you think mention of clothes should have been included on such tickets, which would be bought by anyone who had the price?"

No, I can't imagine how anyone could think that a dance and supper at a "fashionable" hotel could mean anything but evening dress. Whenever an invitation mentions an evening hour and an obviously smart background, evening dress should be taken for granted. As a matter of fact, most of the smart hotels require evening dress for admission to supper rooms on ordinary nights in the week.

Silver Tea Kettles

Dear Mrs. Post: You make such a point of silver tea kettles. Does this mean that those of us who are unable to buy a proper silver tea kettle will be deprived of having friends visit with us over tea cups?

Answer: It is not at all necessary to have a silver tea kettle. It can perfectly well be a glass one. A glass kettle and the heating element to put under it are among the least expensive household articles that one can buy and the fascination of seeing the water boil fully compensates for any absence of silver.

IT MEANS "WHITE"

Dear Mrs. Post: What is a "snowball" wedding?

Answer: I never have heard of one, but my assistant, Anne Kent, tells me it is one at which the bride's attendants as well as herself wear white. But this—it seems—does not mean that the men have to wear white.

Plans Are Completed For Children's Show Tuesday Afternoon

Plans are completed for the presentation of "Daniel Boone" by the Strawbridge Ballet Company Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in the Municipal Auditorium for the children of this area. The program is sponsored by the Junior League of Kingston as one of the many entertainments for children which is a special project of the League.

Tickets may be obtained at a nominal sum at any of the grade schools or at the door.

A decided success with the children on two former occasions the Strawbridge Ballet returns to Kingston this year to dramatize the life of the famous early pioneer. Authentic costume and folk songs will be used in the presentation. The story will be told in three acts, the final one climaxing in the seige of the Boonesboro Stockade by the Indians.

Strong Note Is Sent to Truman

writers said they indicated Attlee was angered, both by Truman's proposals and his insistence on publishing them despite Attlee's request that publication be deferred.

Behind Britain's deep concern over the presidential statement lay the following factors:

A feeling that Mr. Truman had affronted the British government by publishing the statement against Attlee's wishes.

A belief, often expressed in authoritative British quarters, that Truman's 100,000 figure for immediate Jewish immigration tends to become an absolute minimum Jewish demand.

British sources have suggested that, had Truman set no figure, the Jewish agency might have accepted a lower quota.

Behind the whole issue lay the major consideration of Britain's strategic position in the Middle East.

Britain, committed to withdraw from Egypt, has counted on Palestine as a center for some military bases to protect the Suez Canal and the Mediterranean "lifeline."

The labor government is giving India her freedom, but the Indians are virtually bound by debt to trade with Britain and the lifeline remains essential.

The Holy Land is also a military consideration when Britain contemplates her oil fields in southern Iran. Thus Britain must avoid any Palestine explosion.

Restaurant Owners Are Satisfied at Prices Decision

which are not under price control.

At present ceilings are computed adding the actual cost of the item and the current over-all profit margin. After Thursday the price will be actual cost plus the margin of 1942.

When meals or dishes contain both controlled and decontrolled items, O.P.A. said, the main dish or entree will determine whether the ceilings is fixed by the cost-plus method or the 15 per cent boost allowed on meat.

On ham and eggs, a borderline case with ham under ceilings and eggs free, the cost-plus method may be used.

The new price system was worked out here at a closed conference of O.P.A. officials and the National Restaurant Industry Advisory Committee.

Completes Phase of Work

W. Kenneth Kukuk of the Kukuk Memorial Funeral Home has completed his duties in Vienna, Austria (Russian-occupied zone), and has been appointed the special investigator of the Second Zone, American Graves Registration Command. His work will necessitate his travel throughout the zone which is the whole of France, Spain, Portugal, Gibraltar, the Azores, and the islands off the coast, investigating those cases of a special nature and identifying same.

Proclamation

The week of October 6 to October 12, has been set aside as "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week," and today Mayor W. F. Edelmuth issued the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, Victory in World War II cost us more than 2,000,000 casualties and

WHEREAS, there are many millions of handicapped persons in the United States many of whom by their efforts were of great aid in manufacturing munitions or providing essential service for the war effort, and

WHEREAS, all of these persons including disabled veterans of World War I and II deserve self-supporting, self-respecting jobs in which they can make useful contributions to our community, state and nation.....

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Wm. F. Edelmuth, Mayor of the City of Kingston, do set aside the week of October 6th to October 12th as EMPLOY THE PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED WEEK, and I call upon all local officials, all local employers, all local civic organizations and all citizens to assist in every way possible, to the end that it shall be brought to the attention of all members of our community that disabled veterans and other handicapped civilians are fully capable and are performing efficiently, safely and reliably in thousands of different occupations.

AND I FURTHER URGE ALL EMPLOYERS to place all their job orders with the United States Employment Service so that disabled veterans and other handicapped workers may be given an opportunity to prove their value in productive and self-respecting jobs.

IN WITNESS WHEROF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Kingston to be affixed.

Four Persons Die In Bus Accident

bus had been wedged into the left side of the truck.

Vehicles Skid 300 Feet

Still entangled, the two vehicles skidded some 300 feet along the highway before the truck and bulldozer toppled over. He said both vehicles were travelling north.

Eye-witness accounts and tell-tale skid marks left by the bus on the cement highway showed that the accident occurred when the speedy bus failed to clear the tail of the lumbering dump-truck carrying a four ton tractor—that it was trying to pass.

The impact was terrific. It knocked the tractor off the truck and turned the truck itself on its back. The driver of the the bus was hurled through the windshield to the road and the bus ran over his body as it careened down the highway, finally coming to rest against an earth embankment 30 feet short of a gasoline station.

HUNTING TOLL

The hunting season will open this month in this area and accounts of firearm accidents will again tell the grim details of how someone neglected to use simple caution in handling a loaded gun.

Each year brings to thousands the pleasures of the outdoor hunting sports and to many others, certain tragedy. Already gun-cleaning and hunting-preparations accidents have been reported.

To make this season's hunting trips safer, it would be well for all hunters to remember these two rules: Treat every gun as a loaded gun, and don't point a gun at anything you do not wish to kill.

Canada has plenty of food, including meat and dairy products, for all its people, in spite of having recently sent 42,000 tons of hams and bacon and other products overseas. Our powers of production are greater. Why must we do without?

POPULAR TAX-COLLECTOR

Modern miracle man is Hugh Dalton, visiting Englishman currently in Washington attending meetings of the International Bank and Currency Stabilization Fund. Dalton, as Britain's Chancellor of Exchequer, has forced his countrymen to pay the highest taxes in history—and made them like it. With most incomes lopped off 45 per cent by the Dalton plan of taxation, middle-income groups received a five per cent tax cut and over two million poorer citizens found themselves entirely exempted. It is easy to understand why the poorer classes call Dalton "Santa Claus." But even Bank of England stockholders like him since he gave them very moderate terms when that institution was nationalized under the present Attlee government.

Dalton, Socialist, former Member of Parliament and lecturer at the University of London, is looking over U.S. Markets for purchases, through the British Loan, of consumer supplies for depleted British stocks. Perhaps he will give American political leaders some ideas on how to make taxation popular in this country.

Most people learn with surprise and a sort of apology that there were sewing machines a century ago.

TIME TO COME AND GO

Emily Post, arbiter of manners, comes to the rescue. She says people are entitled to private lives. Before making a call, she suggests phoning to see if it's convenient for the neighbors to have the visitor. It may be the very night husband and wife had planned to work on the income tax, to paint the bathroom or play cribbage with old Uncle David who lives with them. If friendship means anything, the caller should not be offended if he is asked to come another time.

If the call is made without warning, one of those dropping-in-for-a-moment affairs, it should be limited. The caller will be thrice welcome—for his coming, his not over-long stay, and the fact that his reappearance in the future can be viewed with equanimity.

There's a time to come. Neighborliness is important. But there's also a time to go.

WORLD'S GREATEST MAN

German youths are beginning to take in the fact that they lost the war, and to lose their inflamed attitude toward the rest of the world. A poll conducted by Psychologist Donald V. McGranahan of Harvard University reveals that out of 391 teen-age Germans, only 19 voted Adolf Hitler the greatest man in world history. Frederick the Great and Bismarck, traditional heroes of German aggressions, had 49 and 50 votes, respectively.

Americans learn with a shock that Canadian squatters are grabbing houses to live in, regardless of their ownership.

HOW TO PUBLISH A BOOK

John E. Kennedy used to be Secretary to Jerry O'Connell, a Left Wingish Congressman from Montana. Kennedy apparently does not like Senator Wheeler, which is his privilege, and he wanted to publish a book attacking him, which is also his privilege. So he hired a poet and novelist, David Plotkin, alias Kin, who was willing to write the book because, as he testified:

"Gee, that would be swell,—although I had never been interested in politics. From my religious and cultural and social point of view I naturally disliked Mr. Wheeler. . . ."

So, Kennedy gave Plotkin a lot of clippings and things and Plotkin went to work, receiving board and lodging but little cash. As he says, he ate off the cuff. It seems that Kennedy was short of funds; yet he was able to raise $13,335 to underwrite the publication of the book. Exhibit 24 of the Senatorial Investigation shows:

"Receipts

J. W. Gehring, Jr., Missoula, Montana	$ 8,800.00*
John E. Kennedy, Missoula, Montana	1,000.00
Milton P. Roumm, 1216 2nd Ave., Seattle Wash.	2,620.00
By receipts of advance orders (see another page for tabulation	915.00
	$13,335.00

*$1,800.00 of this amount was secured as a personal loan by J. W. Gehring, Jr., from Milton P. Roumm, 1216 2nd St., (sic) Seattle, Washington, payable in thirty days after date of July 3, 1946."

These were the financiers. Milton P. Roumm is the operator of Keiter's Cigar Store in Seattle. J. W. Gehring, Jr., runs the Coffee Shop in the Palace Parlor in Missoula. Roumm was recommended to Kennedy by Jerry O'Connell. In the investigation the counsel for the Committee, Robert B. Barker, asked Kennedy if Gehring had the $8,000 that he put up in banks in Missoula. Kennedy replied:

"No; it was not secured at any one time, Mr. Barker. It was in sums ranging from $10.00 up to several hundreds dollars, as the money had to be used, and whether Mr. Gehring borrowed any of that money, I don't know, but I don't believe that he did. I do know that he had certain loans in connection with a cafe business in Missoula, but I don't think that there was any money borrowed for the book."

Gehring testified:

"I have never kept track of the actual amount of money that I put in the book except that I let Kennedy handle that and he has kept track of how much money I have given him. From time to time I have given him money out of my pocket. I knew it was around $8,000 to $9,000." In 1945, Gehring earned $6,000 but he estimates that this year he will earn about $12,000. He said that he borrowed much of the money he put into the book. And it is an amazing transaction of loans. And when the Committee questioned these accounts, which seemed not to tally with the records of the bank, Gehring replied: "They had the accounts all confused."

Kennedy further testified that he tried to finance the publication through the Anti-Defamation League. The League apparently turned him down. So he applied to Gardner Jackson, to whom he sent the following telegram:

1946 Mar 17 PM 5 23

"Night Letter
Gardner Jackson
National Farmers Union
Washington, D. C.

Relet March 8 unless we can secure immediate help as outlined must abandon our project which is outstanding weapon accomplish party's defeat. Wire prospects collect.

John E. Kennedy"

Barker asked:

"Did you know (Gardner Jackson) was dismissed from the Department of Agriculture by Chester Davis on the grounds that he was a Communist?"

But Kennedy says that Gardner Jackson turned him down, as did a Mrs. Marian Bachrach of the Council for Pan American Democracy. And so, for pages and pages of testimony, it goes on to tell how Kennedy tried to raise the money to pay for Plotkin's forthcoming book; yet the only money he could get was from Gehring and Roumm, both men, as the testimony shows, of small means.

The interesting fact about all this is that Kennedy got his $13,000 and the book was published, but as I go over the contributions to Leif Erickson's campaign, which I shall discuss later, I find many of the names that had turned Kennedy down. The connection between the two has not been established by the Senatorial Committee.

ASTHMA TREATMENT

"Contrary to the pessimistic view frequently expressed by the public, considerable benefit can be given most patients with asthma by the application of measures now at the command of most physicians."

I am quoting Drs. Haddon M. Carryer, Louis E. Prickman, C. K. Maytum and Giles A. Koelsche, Mayo Clinic, in the Journal of the American Medical Association. These physicians have in mind severe cases of asthma not the type readily handled by the family physician or the patient himself. Severe asthma can be treated best in hospital and preferably patient should have a private room. Being in hospital removes the fear of an attack to a considerable extent as the patient knows that any emergency can be better met. "Confidence and hope replace in some fear of impending death."

Further, as many asthmatic attacks are caused by allergy and the hospital room is devoid of rugs, drapes, overstuffed furniture and where no animals have been, the patient is removed from home surroundings and house dust, often the starting cause of an asthmatic attack. All types of sweeping are avoided, a damp cloth removing all dust. If allergy is the cause a pollen filter is used.

In older patients where bronchitis is the cause of asthma, "asthmatic bronchitis subsides more quickly in a room which is free from drafts, smoke and furnace or other fumes and is kept at an even temperature." Also treatment by oxygen and helium is best handled in hospital.

Hospital rooms are not always available and may be too expensive for the asthmatic patient. What are the suggestions for home treatment?

Treatment by oxygen and helium (20 per cent oxygen and 80 per cent helium) during an acute attack may not stop the attack but makes the patient more comfortable. Between attacks Dr. A. L. Barach, New York, recommends the use of the oxygen and helium for two hours daily.

Epinephrine (adrenalin) "remains the most useful drug", dose used at clinic ½ cc to 1 cc, 1 to 1,000 solution injected under skin at intervals of twenty minutes. The patient can give himself this treatment.

Other remedies suggested by these physicians of the Mayo Clinic are ephedrine, aminophyline, and, where necessary, drugs to loosen and remove mucous from bronchial tubes.

Reflections

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By JOHN McKNIGHT
(For Hal Boyle)

Rome, (AP)—Bicycle thieves are about as popular characters in present-day Rome as horse thieves and cattle rustlers used to be on the western plains of the United States.

These are parlous times indeed for the city's motorized vehicles. Many of its public conveyances were pilfered by the northward-fleeing Germans. There are not enough pneumatics for those that are left and petrol for horseless carriages is both scarce and dear.

So thousands of honest burghers must pedal to the places of their daily occupation. If they lose their trusty bikes it is a very serious matter, since otherwise they must walk.

Cheer His Arrest

Hence they cheered to the echo an announcement by the forces of law and order that the police at last had laid by the heels one Libertario Pampinicchi of no recorded address or lawful trade, whose exploits in recent weeks had won him in the public prints the dubious appellation "the terror of the cyclists."

It was a notable service that the police had performed, said law-abiding citizens, for the mysterious "terror" was besmirching the fair name of the community, not to speak of causing cyclists anxious days and sleepless nights.

And there was no blinking Pampinicchi's guilt, the police said, for they had caught him "red-handed" or "in flagrante delicto," in the vulgate of the earlier settlers.

When they fell upon Pampinicchi and secured him, the officers testified, he was perpetrating another of the coups which earned him his sobriquet—decamping with seven or eight bicycles which trusting burghers, hastening to the offices where they earned their daily bread, had confided to his care.

Method of Appropriation

Pampinicchi's modus operandi (old Roman for "method of operation"), said the minions of the law, was efficacious because of its very simplicity. They described it thus:

Having taken cognizance of (A) the thousands of cyclists in the Eternal City, (B) the number of buildings bearing notices "no" bicycles" and (C) the pretty problem these posed for those who must pedal to work, Pampinicchi:

Obtained official-looking headgear with the deceptive legend "authorized bicycle guard," signs reading "bicycle parking—10 lire" (a modest emolument, since it is just over four U. S. coppers) and certain apparatus promising orderly alignment of the contrivances entrusted to him;

Set up shop on well-traveled thoroughfares;

Continued operations until he had seven or eight "machines" in hand, and then.

With the aid of confederates lurking nearby, folded up his parking lot and its contents like the Arab and as silently stole away.

Legion Endorses Single Command Of Nation's Forces

San Francisco, Oct. 5 (AP)—The American Legion, over the opposition of its naval bloc, added its voice today to those who endorse a single department of national defense embracing a unified command and equal status for the army, navy and airforces.

The Legion, concluding its first postwar national convention here yesterday, voted uproariously its approval of a resolution proposing a single department of national security in the President's cabinet. The vote followed a half-hour battle with opposition led by Massachusetts naval supporters.

Col. Paul H. Griffith of Uniontown, Pa., and Washington, D. C., was elected national commander without opposition, succeeding John Stelle of McLeansboro, Ill. Griffith, a veteran of World Wars 1 and 2, made it plain in his acceptance speech that there would be no relaxation of the Legion's feud with Gen. Omar N. Bradley, the veterans administrator.

The Legion will demand that congress rescind the law which has "crippled the on-the-job training program as administered by the veterans' administration," Griffith declared.

In general, the tone of the Legion's actions indicated the course of the veterans' group in the coming year will follow closely that of the outgoing leadership.

The convention voiced a demand for retention of atomic secrets by the United States; expressed support for legislation to "correct labor-management chaos," calling for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes and accountability of labor unions; endorsed universal military training similar to that advanced by the War Department except in the training period requirements; and took a position generally opposed to a World War II bonus at this time and rejecting support of pensions to World War I veterans over 50.

Drastic overhaul of the courts martial system and congressional creation of a reviewing agency for courts martial were advocated.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Squeeze Play

Chicago, Oct. 5 (AP)—A baseball game at the Walsh School playground was delayed yesterday while firemen were summoned to recover the ball—and a player.

One of the youths slammed the ball onto the roof of the school's power plant and it rolled into a vent. Outfielder Toby Preski went in after it and got stuck.

Firemen managed to get him out and also found the ball, and the game was resumed.

Hank Honks Hogs

Kane, Ill., Oct. 5 (AP)—Even hog calling has gone mechanical at Henry Stevens' 420 acre farm near here.

Stevens says he just blows the horn on his automobile and the porkers come a running, saving his time and tonsils.

Lucky Cabbie

Chicago, Oct. 5 (AP)—Julius Wolf, a taxicab driver who won a safety award for driving 375,000 miles in city traffic without an accident in 15 years, says there is more than luck in his record.

Wolf, 37, who does most of his driving in the loop district, gave a tip on how to outguess the other motorist:

Kick Back

Mt. Vernon, Ill., Oct. 5 (AP)—On the first day the new rent control for the Mt. Vernon area went into effect the O.P.A. office in charge of supervising the ceilings was notified that rent for its office would be increased 100 per cent.

By order of Mayor Harry L. Bishop the city advised the O.P.A. that its rent for office space in the city hall will be hiked from $50 to $100.

The O.P.A. has no appeal as new ceilings cover only housing facilities.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Oct. 5, 1926—Mrs. John Rock died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. David M. Leach, on Hoffman street.

Proposed laws increasing salaries of the city assessor and treasurer, led Common Council to investigate other salary increases. Alderman DeGarmo of the First Ward favored a $5,000 a year salary of the mayor.

Jacob Schaffrick died in his home on Gill street.

Oct. 5, 1936—The Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe filed his resignation as pastor of the Reformed Church of the Comforter. Ill health was the reason for the pastor deciding to resign.

George Planthaber, one of the city's leading grocers, died in his home on Lindsley avenue.

Plans made to observe the 103d anniversary of the founding of the Rondout Presbyterian Church during the first week in November. The Rev. James N. Armstrong, Jr., was pastor of the church during the anniversary year.

Mrs. Sherman Lyons died in home in Whitfield.

Extension Course For Teachers Will Start on Thursday

University extension courses for teachers and others interested in educational problems are back in Kingston again through the interest of local educators.

Principal Clarence Dumm of Kingston High School announces that a class in Tests and Measurements in Education is being offered for Kingston and the area for miles around by the School of Education of New York University. At a preliminary meeting last Thursday it appeared that there are plenty of teachers interested to assure the minimum of 20 required by the university.

The class will meet for its first formal session Thursday, October 10, at the high school from 7 to 9 and for about 15 weekly sessions thereafter. It will be for two points of college credit, either graduate or undergraduate; also it can be classified as applying either to elementary school or secondary level as may be desired.

It is hoped that this may lead to other courses later. Already there is talk about seeking a basic course in guidance for the second semester if this present class is adequately supported.

The scope of the present course will include a brief history of educational testing, the functions of examinations, the marks of a good test, the advantages and disadvantages of the common essay-type test, the construction and use of informal, short-answer objective-type tests and of the formal standardized tests of achievement and intelligence, diagnostic and prognostic testing, interest and personality tests. The intelligence tests should be of particular local interest because Kingston elementary schools are right now participating in building norms for a revision of one nationally-known test series.

Enough study of analyzing and interpreting test scores statistically will be included to aid the student in his study of tests.

The instructor for the course will be Boyd R. Swem, who is director of guidance at Middletown and was the instructor for Tests and Measurements at the university summer session. Mr. Swen, in addition to a master's degree in guidance at the University of Michigan, has taken later courses in education at Ann Arbor at Northwestern University, at Albany and at Columbia. He has had teaching experiences at University of Michigan and Northwestern in addition to N.Y.U. He combines the university instructor's viewpoint and that of the daily practitioner.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

The Kingston City Library for some years before it was located in its present building on Broadway, opposite the city hall, was granted the use of a room on the second floor of the city hall which was used for library purposes.

In 1902 the trustees of the library decided to accept an offer from Andrew Carnegie of $30,000 to be used in the erection of a library building in Kingston.

When it was decided to build its own building there was considerable agitation as to where the new library was to be located. Many favored a central location as the more convenient and in July of that year, S. D. Coykendall, widely known industrialist of Kingston, purchased a lot on the O'Reilly property on Broadway, opposite the city hall.

Mr. Coykendall offered to deed the lot to the library associatitn provided it raise $2,500. The offer was considered and accepted at a meeting of the library trustees held in the city hall on July 25, of that year.

Today the library stands on the lot that was deeded to the library association by Mr. Coykendall.

Another interesting event in July, 1902, was the formation of the Ulster County Bar Association. At a meeting held on July 22, of that year, Howard Chipp was elected to serve as the first president of the new association.

Other officers chosen were Judge John G. Van Etten as vice president; Philip Elting, treasurer; Roscoe Irwin, recording secretary, and John T. Cahill, correspondent secretary.

Of the officers elected that night but two are now living. They are former Mayor Irwin and Attorney John T. Cahill.

Walter C. Dolson assumed his duties as postmaster of Kingston on June 30, 1902. He succeeded George M. Brink.

Judge John G. Van Etten on May 14, 1902, appointed Henry A. Ohley of Saugerties, to the post of court crier at the terms of the supreme and county courts in Ulster county. Mr. Ohley was to be paid at the rate of $3 a day.

Court criers were a part of the courts of record in Ulster county until about 1876 when they were discontinued and the crier's duties transferred to the county clerk, who had since performed them.

Mr. Ohley was a well known volunteer fireman of Ulster county, and was prominent for years in firemanic circles in the Hudson rivery valley.

The memorial tablet to Company M, First New York Volunteer Infantry, who served during the Spanish American War, was dedicated and unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on Memorial Day afternoon, May 30, 1902, at the state armory on Broadway, now the municipal auditorium.

The presentation speech was made by Chief Judge Alton B. Parker of the Court of Appeals. The armory was artistically decorated with flags, and the ceremonies were largely attended.

The invocation was asked by the Rev. Charles Mercer Hall, rector of Holy Cross Church, while District Attorney Charles Cantine presided at the exercises. The tablet was received by Lieut. Terry and the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Dr. R. L. Burtsell of St. Mary's Church.

During the exercises several selections were sung by a large chorus led by Arthur C. Connelly.

Old-Age Benefits Total $28,463 For 1,450 Here

Benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program totaling $28,463.54 a month are now in force for 1,450 residents of Ulster county, the manager of Kingston Office of the Social Security Administration reported today. The monthly benefits in Ulster county are distributed as follows: 743 retired workers, age 65 or over, receiving $18,014.31 a month; 234 retired workers' wives, age 65 or over, receiving $2,935.41 a month; 102 young widows with children under 18, receiving $2,096.45 a month; 253 children of retired or deceased workers, receiving $3,292.27 a month; 109 widows, 65 or over, of insured workers, receiving $2,011.82 a month; and nine aged dependent parents of deceased workers, receiving $113.28 a month.

In addition, more than $3,209.24 in lump sums have been paid in the last six months on the wage records of insured workerse who died leaving no one immediately eligible for monthly benefit payments.

Mr. Blumberg, manager of the Kingston Office, said that although every effort is made to inform persons covered by the Social Security Act of their rights under that act, a number of benefit payments are lost by persons otherwise eligible because they delay filing or fail to file claims for those benefits.

"It is necessary that a claim be filed for benefits," he said. "They do not come automatically to otherwise eligible persons. The person who is qualified to receive benefits must apply for them, and the place to do that is the nearest field office of the Social Security Administration.

K.H.S. News

Yesterday the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. entertained students of the A and B assemblies. A representative from Central Hudson illustrated with several devices the importance in a home to guard health. One of the most interesting items displayed was the bacteria demonstration. The Representative flashed several micro-slides on a screen to show many bacilli moving about. Next the representative turned a newly invented light on the slide. Within 49 seconds the bacilli were dead. Next the representative demonstrated how a new type ventilator or air conditioner operates. A box of smoke was placed below the air conditioner. The students were able to see the smoke rising towards the ceiling. The representative then turned another switch and the students no longer could see the smoke rise. The reperesentative explained that the smoke was being filtered. The air conditioner had the appearance of a regular radio set.

Seniors Order Rings

Seniors who did not order their rings in January and wish to do so had their last chance Thursday. A representative of the ring company was in the school soilciting orders.

The rings themselves are scheduled to arrive sometime in November. An earlier shipment was expected, but circumstances have caused a delay. An announcement will be made on the date of their arrival.

Veterans Return to School

More than 40 veterans have returned to Kingston High School to resume their interrupted studies. Three-fourths of these veterans were in the U. S. Navy.

The longest record is held by S. Benson Rogers who served in the Pacific and Indian Oceans for more than three and a half years.

John Porsch experienced the most exciting adventure of his career when his vessel, a destroyer, was sunk by a suicide plane. John was wounded by shrapnel and was kept afloat for a half hour by his buddy until they were rescued.

Other veterans who are resuming their studies include: George Gardiner, Floyd Gardiner, Stephen Bull, Charles Abernethy, Henry Boice, John Breithaupt, Bruce Campbell, James Castle, Dave Collins, Earle Every, Thomas Gorham, Willow Harrell, Joseph Hofbauer, John Jankowski, John Jordan, Henry Kingsburg, Vincent Lawrence, Pete Maurer, Emil Menk, Gerard Mower, Edward Muller, Kenneth Ryan, Norman Sherry, Milton Polinsky, Herbert Roth, Harry Sills, Walter Smith, Howard Stauble, Vincent Terwilliger, Robert Tremper, Arnold Van Lear, Francis Vertetis, Lester Ward, William West and Jack Wolferstieg.

Football at M.J.M. School

Four six-man football teams have been started at the Saint J. Michael School by Coach Kenneth Babcock. More than 80 boys tried out for the teams but eventually the number was cut to 40. A six-man football team consists of two ends, one center, a quarterback, and two halfbacks. The ball can be handled by only the quarterbacks. Last school week uniforms with blue jerseys, were distributed.

Mr. Babcock announced that all the games will be played at the Athletic Field on Cornell street. The first game will probably start the first week of the month.

The captains of the teams are as follows: Richard Priest, Richard Chatham, Walter Hansen, and Henry Levy.

Gym Club Organizes

Three years ago the Gym Club under the assistance of Coach Kias was started. The club was again started this year. Boys interested in gymnastics may join.

In former years the club gave exhibitions. Last year they gave it on May Day. This year it is expected to demonstrate the correct use of the parallel bars. As yet the officers have not been elected. Mr. Kias said the election will take place in the near future.

Athletic Council Formed

The A. A. Council has once again been formed. Officers were elected at the September 26th meeting as follows: Harry Barnhart, president; Jean Bilyou, vice president; Joseph Gardeski secretary; Donald Donahue, treasurer, was elected in June.

The A. A. Council is made up of all the managers and captains of all the boys' varsity sports. The president of the Letter Club and the cheer leaders are also members.

The A. A. drive has concluded after a two-weeks' drive. About 850 tickets were sold, a total of more than 100 over last year's sales. A. A. tickets can be purchased from Raymond Woodard in Room 208.

A ticket was awarded to the boy or girl who sold the most tickets. The winners were Joe Carroll, who sold 260; and Miss Betty Ann Culloton, who sold 62.

A.F.L. Factions Engage in Fight

Police Use Drawn Guns to End Battle Over Strike Points

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Police with drawn guns last night broke up a wild street battle between opposing factions of the A.F.L. Masters, Mates, and Pilots Association—one of two unions involved in the nationwide maritime strike.

The riot—first violenve in the five day old strike—came as the climax to a meeting at which Paul Hall, chairman of the A.F.L. Maritime Trades Council, said his group would ask for a general harbor strike if the M.M.P.A. demands for a 30 per cent wage increase were not met by Monday.

As the 550 men poured out of the meeting hall into the street, members of a rank-and file group—which had caucused elsewhere—arrived at the scene, demanding selection of a new strike committee and reinstatement of two suspended union members.

While the men milled about in the street, a shouted accusation—"you're all yellow"—was made by one of them. The riot broke out immediately.

For 10 minutes rocks and bottles were thrown and fists flew before the police put an end to the battling.

Charles Atkins, vice-president of Local 88 of the association, said union officials would seek to obtain warrants today for arrests of several of the 50-member rank-and-file group.

Police said no arrests were made in the fighting and that no injuries were reported to them.

The other striking union is the C.I.O. Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

50,000 Volunteers Join in September

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Recruiting reports indicated today 50,000 or more volunteers joined the Army in September during a rush to get under today's deadline for full educational benefits of the G.I. Bill of Rights.

For planning purposes, the War Department had figured on only 25,000.

Under legislation approved a year ago, men between 17 and 34 enlisting on or before Oct. 5 for three years qualify for all educational benefits upon completion of their service.

After today, benefits depend on the date eventually set for the official end of the war.

LYONSVILLE

Lyonsville, Oct. 5—The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. William Davis Thursday afternoon. Following the business meeting dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests included Mrs. Chester Roosa, Mrs. Fred Oakley, Mrs. Ward Christiana, Mrs. Floyd Davis, Mrs. Karl Kozian, Mrs. Kenneth Oakley, Mrs. Sherman Barley, Mrs. Clyde Roosa and daughter, Wanda, Mrs. Joseph Burger. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sherman Barley November 7 at 2 p. m.

Members of the Ladies' Aid and ladies of the community will meet at the church October 10 to give the church a general fall cleaning. Each one is to bring equipment with which to work and also her lunch.

The Young People's Community Club will sponsor an evening of games and dancing Friday evening, October 11. Refreshments will be served. Proceeds for benefit of the club.

On oyster stew will be served at the clubhouse evening of November 13 by the Ladies' Aid Society assisted by the ladies of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson are spending some time in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Davis, accompanied by Mrs. Oliver Bogart and daughter, Charlotte, of Stone Ridge, and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lyons of Kripplebush, spent Tuesday at the Danbury Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Barley were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Barringer, Cottekill. The occasion was Mrs. Barley's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burger and mother, Mrs. Ray Davis, spent Monday at Wallkill and Gardiner.

Marines to Install Officers, Enjoy Social

Newly-elected officers of the Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, will be installed at a meeting and social next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Excelsior Hose firehouse, 20 Hurley avenue.

Commandant J. P. Meyers is desirous of having all ex-marines at the affair and asks that they note the change in date and place of meeting. An enjoyable time is promised all who attend.

Ives Gives No Approval

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Irving M. Ives, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, says he approves of no St. Lawrence seaway plan so far advanced. He made no mention of the electric power aspect of the proposal yesterday in a statement asked by persons interested in the matter of deepening the river for ocean-going vessels.

Two Investigations Made Into Blast

State Fire Marshal Orders Probe; Sun Company Starts Its Own

Marcus Hook, Pa., Oct. 5 (AP)—Two investigations were underway today in the explosions and fire at Sun Oil Company's Marcus Hook refinery where seven persons were killed and 140 others injured.

Charles W. Taylor, district fire marshal of the Pennsylvania State Police, said he had been ordered by the state fire marshal in Harrisburg, Pa., to determine the cause of the blasts which rocked the $13,000,000 aviation gasoline refinery Thursday night.

The other investigation was that of the Sun Oil Company itself. Its president, J. Howard Pew, who estimated the damage at $300,000 said:

"We are making the most minute investigation of every phase of the operation at the unit. No evidence has been found indicating any carelessness."

Farmers Will Have New Agency for Loans They Need

Farmers today were assured there will be no interruption of the services provided them by the Farm Security Administration.

F. A. Norman, County F.S.A. supervisor, said his office will continue to make new loans pending establishment later this fall of the Farmers' Home Administration, a new agency created by Congress to take over the functions of F.S.A. and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration.

"Congress gave the Secretary of Agriculture 90 days to transfer the functions of F.S.A. and the crop and feed loan program to the new Farmers' Home Administration," Norman said. "When the transfer is complete, F.S.A. will cease to exist. However, its work will be carried on by the new agency in much the same manner as at present."

Norman said the Farmers' Home Act continues the work of F.S.A. under a new name and for the first time gives it permanent status in law. F.S.A. was authorized by executive orders rather than by act of Congress.

In addition to carrying on the supervised program of F.S.A. and the crop and feed loan program, the new agency is authorized to provide government insurance of loans to farmers, and preference is created for loans to enable veterans to acquire farms.

Dillard B. Lasseter, who has been administrator of F.S.A. was recently appointed administrator of the new Farmer's Home Administration.

Shandaken Chest X-ray Survey to Start on Monday

Phoenicia, Oct. 5—Every man, woman and child over 16 years of age in the township of Shandaken will be given the opportunity of safeguarding their health by having a free chest X-ray when the community X-ray survey begins here on October 7. The survey will be sponsored by the township of Shandaken and financed by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association through the sale of Christmas Seals.

This announcement was made by Dr. Charles Quinn, health officer who expressed the hope that every citizen of Shandaken over 16 years of age would take advantage of this special opportunity.

The clinic will be held in St. Francis de Sales Hall in Phoenicia and will be in operation from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. The X-ray takes only a few minutes of every person's time, Dr. Quinn pointed out. The X-ray technicians can handle 100 persons in an hour.

Haiti has a population of about 3,500,000.

All-White Jury Frees 23 Negroes

Accused of Participating in Racial Uprising

Lawrenceburg, Tenn., Oct. 5 (AP)—Twenty-three of 25 Negroes charged with participating in a racial disturbance at nearby Columbia seven months ago were free today—acquitted by an all-white jury.

The jury, which deliberated an hour and 53 minutes before bringing in a verdict late yesterday afternoon, found two other defendants guilty of assaulting four Columbia policemen during the day and night of racial unrest last February.

Robert Gentry, 24-year-old barber shop porter, and John McKivens, 26, alone were convicted of holding the shotguns which struck down Patrolman Will Wilsford and three other officers in Columbia's darkened Mink Slide Negro business block the night of February 25, after a day of racial tension.

They were convicted of attempt to murder and the jury set their sentence at "not more than 21 years" in the penitentiary.

Defense Attorney L. A. Ransom of Washington, D. C., immediately announced he would ask a new trial for the pair, a preliminary to an appeal to the state's Supreme Court.

Another defense attorney, Maurice Weaver of Chattanooga, only white member at the defendants' counsel table, termed the verdict "a victory for Americanism."

The Best Automobile Insurance Is Good Tires. This Is Especially True In The Winter Time.

It was dusk as she stopped at the roadside garage:

She—I want a quart of red oil

Garage Man (gasping)—R-r-red oil, madam?

She—Certainly, stupid! My tail light has gone out.

The More Fast Rides You Take, The Sooner You Will Be Taken For A Slow One.

About six o'clock the other morning, our neighbor up the street was awakened by a pounding on the door, and after hurriedly putting on her new housecoat went to the door, and a strange man asked her:

Man—Are you Mrs. B——?

Neighbor Woman—Why, yes, certainly.

Man—Are you sure you're Mrs. B——?

Neighbor Woman—Of course, I'm sure . . . I've been that for the past eight years.

Man—Well, will you come out to the car and pick out Mr. B——? The rest of us want to go home.

The Superintendent was interviewing a Prospective Cab Driver:

Superintendent (frowning on the prospect)—We must have honest men.

Prospective Cab Driver — Oh, I'm the very height of honesty.

Superintendent—Absolutely?

Prospective Cab Driver (positively)—Absolutely!

Superintendent — What would you do if you found $100,000 in your cab?

Prospective Cab Driver—Just the same as you would do, sir, nothing for the rest of my life.

Whitney Straight, young racing driver, said one day:

"A racer is careful. He has to be. Yet a lot of people think he is like the tourist who said to the girl beside him, as he pushed his car along at 80 or 90:

"We must be nearing some large city. I keep knocking down more and more people."

One Nice Thing About It When The Gangsters Take You For A Ride They Always Have A Nice, New, Shiny Car.

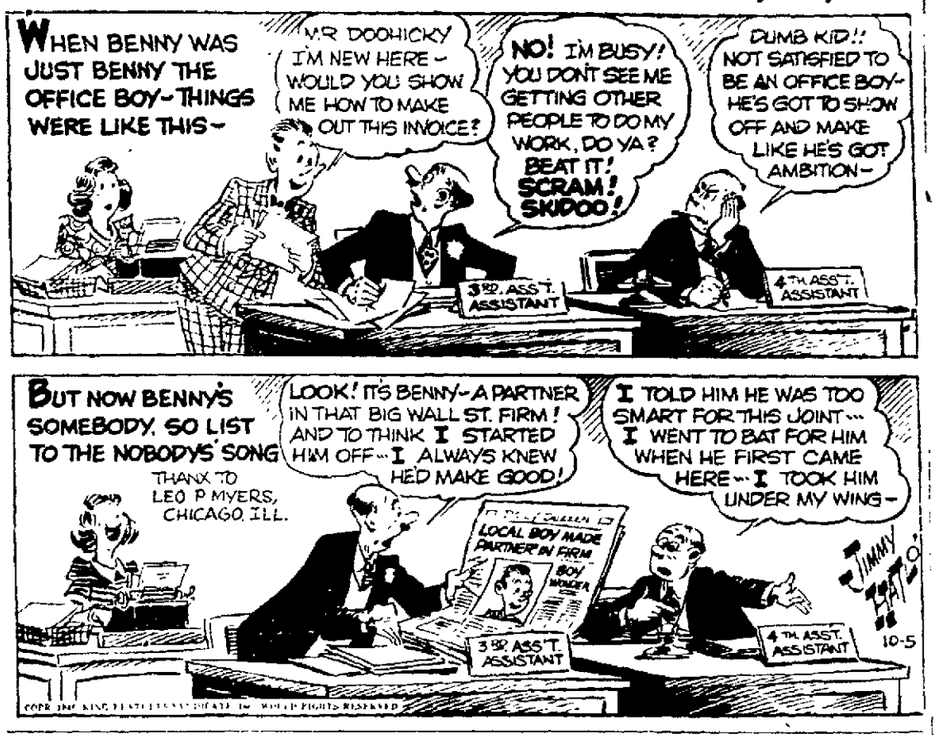

Mrs. P—Did it ever occur to you that a pedestrian is safe only when he is riding?

Mr. M—No, my dear, a pedestrian is safe only after he is planted.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Oct. 5—The monthly supper meeting of the Kingston Newspaper Guild was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wagenfohr Wednesday evening, about 30 members of the Guild and their families were present. A spaghetti supper was served and the social part of the evening was pleasantly congenial. The business meeting was called to order at 8:30 by Henry Eighmey, president. It was voted to send a second check of $10 to aid the Los Angeles Herald-Express strike fund. Also it was voted to send a representative to the next meeting of the Ulster county Labor Committee, to become acquainted with their policies and activities, in view of the Guild's proposed affiliation with the organization. The next meeting will be held November 6 at which time officers for the coming year will be nominated.

Registration days are October 5, 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. and October 12, 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. In order to vote it is necessary to register.

Tickets for the Democratic rally to be held at Golden Rule Inn Sunday may be secured through Miss Isabel Doughty.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Downer will sail for France on the Americana October 17. Mr. Downer is connected with the war shipping division of the army. They plan to be gone at least a year.

More than a quarter of a million people are admitted annually to U. S. mental institutions.

Local Club Seeks Win Over Forest Hills Aggregation

Mallan and Glennon Say Kingston Team in Top Shape; Game Starts 8:15 at Stadium

The Kingston Athletic Association's football team, which split in two games so far, goes into action for the third time tonight, meeting the Forest Hill Millionaires under the arclights in the municipal stadium at 8:15 o'clock.

Opening its schedule in the Hudson Valley League, the Kingston eleven came through with a 19-2 win at Port Jervis, then suffered a 6-0 upset at the hands of the Walden Red Tigers at the uptown ball park last week.

"I think we're stronger for tonight's tussle than we were for either of our other games," said Manager Larry Glennon, who watched his moleskinners shape up satisfactorily in several practice sessions this week.

Coach Tom Mallan, former Colgate center, has a brighter outlook for tonight's game, too. "We've concentrated on some new plays, stressing the importance of passing," he told a reporter, "and have brushed up on line play."

Although the K.A.A. was superior to Walden in the air last week, according to statistics, the passing attack bogged down when it came time to score. Kingston gained 110 yards to the Tigers' 22.

Judging from reports of workout held since the Walden upset, things will be different when Jackie Ruzzo and company start operating against the Forest Hills club tonight. Ruzzo sparked the attack last week and did more than his share to furnish a lot of action for the customers.

The Millionaires have a heavier lineup than the Red Tigers, a wealth of substitutes and the advantage of a coach, Fred "Rocks" Ley, who become a Pittsburgh pro in the National League after winning All-American honors. Ley, a 240 pounder, still takes a turn in the lineup.

Starting lineups at 8:15 tonight:

Better Bowling

By BILLY SIXTY

It is said of golf that no two players look alike, and certainly that holds true of bowling as well.

In other words, there is no definite form pattern that must be followed to be successful. Whether to use a two or a three-fingered ball, whether to start from an upright, semi-crouched or crouched position, or whether to take three, four or more steps is a matter of individual choice. The method to adopt is the one that is natural and most comfortable. That is most important. Practice will determine which is best.

The styles of three former world match champions illustrate that success isn't measured by form. Adolph Garrison, a tall man, stood up erect and used three short steps that covered not more than eight or nine feet of "run." He generated terrific speed with a long swing perfectly timed with his easy stride.

Jimmy Smith, medium build, worked out of a crouch, took four steps, covered about 14 feet of runway. Charley Daw, also of medium build, used a semi-crouch (shoulders slightly drooped) and used five steps. The one thing they all had, though different in style, was co-ordination . . . perfect timing.

Nelson Protege Leads In Fort Worth Golf

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 5 (AP) — Amateur Frank Stranahan, protege of famed Byron Nelson, led his teacher and all the other crack professionals today going into the third round of the $10,000 Fort Worth Open.

Stranahan, the muscled young man from Toledo, shot a five-under-par 66 over the 6,350-yard Shangarden course yesterday to pull four strokes in front of the field at the half-way mark. He had a similar card in the first round, thus he showed a ten-under-par 132 for the 36 holes.

Nelson was nine strokes behind Stranahan. He posted a 71 yesterday to go with his opening day's 70.

Pro Football Slate

Five big National Football League contests are on the slate for Sunday afternoon. Boston plays at the Philadelphia Eagles, the Chicago Bears and Chicago Cardinals collide in the Windy City, the Detroit Lions and Washington Redskins tangle in the nation's capital; Los Angeles meets the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee and the New York Giants play the Pittsburgh Steelers at Pittsburg.

In the Rough

By Charlie Tiano

It was a close race but the 1946 Wiltwyck Club's "Best Ball" tournament playoff just did beat the National League hysteria between the Cardinals and Dodgers. Pete Misasi and Father T. J. Barrett combined for a best-ball score of 66 to defeat Dr. Chester Van Gaasbeek and Harry Green. The winning tandem carded 40-41—81, with a 15 handicap to a 44-43—87, 14 handicap for the Van Gaasbeek-Green combine. . . . That leaves only the club championship to be decided and Roy Vogt and "Watts" Bailey will take care of that item this afternoon. . . . We're still hoping to arrange a 36-hole city championship playoff between Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., Twaalfskill titlist, and the winner of the Vogt-Bailey match.

E. Frank Flanagan says he would like to author "In The Rough" for one issue. . . . Mr. Flanagan hasn't disclosed his subject beyond admitting that it will be a heart warming message to the millions of golfers who have realized that trying to break 90 is a pretty futile proposition. . . . The day a golfer "shatters" 90 is comparable to a bowler's first 600 series in league play. . . . In many cases golfers flirt with an 89 for years before they achieve it and in bowling many a tenth frame miss has ruined his first 600 series. . . . Take Al Kurdi's case, for example. . . . Al had never shot 600 in league play. . . . The other night he roared into the tenth frame of the third game needing only a spare for that 600. . . . You know what happened. Yep, he missed. Net result—592.

There are about three more weeks of good golf weather unless October slips in a Mickey Finn. After that only the hardest species will care to buck the strong fall headwinds and frosted fairways. . . . We tried golfing with a topcoat and hat but it didn't work. . . . Proving that we're not in a class with "Chesty Joe" Falcaro, world's match game bowling champion as a topcoat performer. . . . A few years ago, "Chesty Joe" strolled into the Central Recs about 2 a. m. and was promptly challenged to a game by Johnny Ferraro, the local kingpin. . . . Falcaro, who adheres strictly to professional business hours, said he really shouldn't bowl without the usual fee but if Mr. Ferraro insisted, he would bowl sans the formality of removing either his topcoat or hat. . . . The memory of this occasion is still painful to Johnny. . . . "The Coat" shot 242, as Ferraro also bowled. . . . To this day Ferraro insists that Falcaro's topcoat had trick sleeves.

A hole-in-one story to end all hole-in-one stories. "Hod" Spaulding, the eminent bowler-golfer, tells of the time he played 81 holes on a course in Liberty, N. Y. . . . It was one of those marathon affairs that proved that even normally reserved golfers can sometimes lose their sense of mental and mathematical balance. . . . Came the 81st hole. . . . It was almost dark and radar hadn't been discovered. The boys were playing strictly by ear. . . . But from here on out, let "Hod" carry the ball, or is it the bull?

"It was so dark on the last couple holes that all we could do was hit the ball and listen for the sound of the ball hitting the fairways (?). I was the fourth man to tee off. It felt like a pretty good hit but my partners insisted it was in the rough. We searched and searched and came up with three balls. We couldn't find my ball and we were about to give up the ghost when one of the fellows stepped up to the cup and there was my ball, a hole-in-one! How did I do it? Well, it seems a stray dog was cavorting around the fairway and when the ball came winging his way he just snatched it up and deposited it in the cup. Sweet dog. I think the dog helped me on the shot because the golf ball was covered with saliva. There are no rules governing after dark play so to this day I credit myself with a hole-in-one. You know, that's probably the only golfing ace in history in which a man and dog collaborated!"

Joe Di Maggio's appearance at municipal stadium Sunday with a team of major leaguers is a tribute to the high esteem in which Fred Davi is held by the Yankee Clipper and other top players. . . . Davi is a friend of numerous big leaguers and rates especially high with Di Maggio, who turned a Bushwick offer down, in order to play in Kingston. . . . We hope he gets a real break in weather and attendance. . . . Fred has done much for Kingston baseball in the last year or so and merits a successful promotion Sunday.

Big Field Set for Sunday's Skeet Championship Shoot

Montavani Will Defend Crown; Competition Slated to Start at 10:30 A.M.

Everything is in readiness for the renewal of the Ulster County Federation skeet championship shoot at the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club grounds Sunday morning. The meet, first since 1942, is scheduled to start at 10:30 o'clock sharp.

"We expect a banner field of contestants for Sunday's big event" Secretary Les Hotaling said this morning. "We all have put a lot of work into this competitive meet which will be run on an individual basis and if everything goes off as scheduled, it should be one of the best in history."

Tomorrow's event will be the first of two important championship shoots at the newly-acquired Lake Katrine grounds on the Neighborhood road. Next Sunday, October 13, the annual sportsmen's field day of the Ulster County Federation will be held at the Katrine club grounds to which another big field will compete.

Al Montavani, who copped the skeet championship back in 1942, will be on hand Sunday to defend his crown in a field which is expected to include Joe Zeeh, Ed Benoit, Chet Joy, Gordon Boice, Dan Hurley, Frank Zell, "Bub" Merrihew, Frank Koenig and Merrill Peck.

In addition to Sunday's championship shoot, officials of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club have planned a field day on trap. Prizes also will be awarded to the best shooters in this competition.

Red Sox Become Top Favorites to Swamp St. Louis

Williams Will Play, Hence Bookies Continue to Favor Boston Over Cards

By JACK HAND

St. Louis, Oct. 5 (AP)—Boston's fence-busting Red Sox, with Tex Williams definitely back in the lineup, are ranked top heavy favorites to whip the newly-crowned National League champions from St. Louis in the 43rd World Series opening tomorrow at Sportsman's Park.

Despite the Cardinals' stretch drive that overcame a 7½ game Brooklyn lead and finally carried them past the Dodgers to the flag in the first tie playoff in history, the odd makers remain loyal to the home run power in the Sox bats, particularly in William's ability to hit for distance. Boston is a 7 to 20 choice to take the series and 13 to 20 to cop the first game.

For Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals who has been riding the baseball hot seat since the "experts" last spring picked him to coast home 15 games in front, the role of an underdog is a welcome change. The freshman skipper honestly believes his Red Birds have a real chance to upset the mighty Sox and he is banking on his southpaw pitching to do the trick.

With that in mind, "Skip" Dyer plans to open with lefthanders Howie Pollet and Harry Brecheen and follow with Murry Dickson at Boston. Tex Hughson is expected to be Joe Cronin's choice although it may not be definite up to game time. Dave Ferriss and Mickey Harris are the other possibilities.

Cronin Is Serious

Cronin, despite his 12-game edge over Detroit at the finish, is not taking the Cardinals lightly. The Irish skipper from San Francisco, who like Dyer won a pennant in his first year as a big league manager with Washington in 1933, isn't sure about his opening day pitcher. He prefers to wait until after today's workout and perhaps until game time.

Boston packs more punch in its infield of Rudy York, Bobby Doerr, Johnny Pesky and Pinky Higgins or Glen Russell but the Card quinete of Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst, Marty Marion and Whitey Kurowski has more finesse.

Outfield Edge

Williams and Dom DiMaggio give the Sox an outfield edge although Enos Slaughter, St. Louis right fielder, rates over either Wally Moses or Tom McBride, Erv Dusak and Harry Walker. Card left fielders, can not approach Williams, and DiMaggio has more speed than the 1946 Terry Moore.

Williams elbow injury from an exhibition game Tuesday in Boston will not keep him out of the series, although the joint is still swollen and very tender. He said after his arrival here that he would be ready and Dr. Ralph McCarthy, team physician, agreed.

Cronin also has more experienced catching in Hal Wagner and Roy Partee although rookie Joe Garagiola and veteran Clyde Kluttz, who split the Birds receiving, won't be far behind.

The St. Louis regular starting quartet of Pollet, Brecheen, Dickson and Munger can't match Harris, Ferriss and Hughson in total victories. However they do outrank the Sox in top drawer lefthanders, a factor that could be decisive in a short series.

Both clubs have planned to limber up at Sportsman's Park today although both are familiar with every nook and cranny of the field.

With all reserved seats sold in a wild 90-minute scramble at the park yesterday, capacity crowds of close to 34,000 have been assured.

Two Horses Removed

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—A little of the edge was taken from the 57th running of the rich Futurity Stakes when Cosmic Bomb and Blue Border were removed by training difficulties but a filly named First Flight promises to make today's Belmont Park feature interesting. First Flight, the C. V. Whitney lass beaten only once in five starts this year, heads a field of 13 of the nation's leading juveniles in training that will romp down the six and a half furlongs on the Widener straightaway for the $99,150 pot.

Maroons Defeat Beacon in Cross Country, 15-55

Kiasmen Capture First Seven Berths; Team Engages Monticello Next Friday

Kingston High School's cross country team opened its 1946 season Friday afternoon with a 15 to 55 victory over Beacon High at municipal stadium. The Maroons captured top positions in the first seven places.

Ed Ward, completing the grind in the time of 11:58, finished first for Kingston. Bernie Stahl, Dick Van Bramer, Vince Fiore, George Leirey, Merle Thorpe and Ken Lowe, all of Kingston, walked off with the seven first spots. Hamm of Beacon interrupted the Maroon sweep by coming in eighth.

Next Friday afternoon Coach G. Warren Kias' Maroon and White team will travel to Monticello for the second meet of the year.

Following is the first 20 men in yesterday's meet:

Ward (K), 11:58, first place; Stahl (K), Van Bramer (K), Fiore (K), Leirey (K), Thorpe (K), Lowe (K), Hamm (B), Pavelock (B), Morris (K), Neville (B), J. Dwyer (K), Schatzel (K), R. Thorpe (K), Munson (K), LaTorre (K), Lodge (K), Denyse (B), Jackson (B) and Sedore (B).

The field included 39 entries.

Miss Sharp Says DiMaggio to Play For Boston Outfit

Boston, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Boston Globe this morning quoted Miss Betty Sharp, night club entertainer, as saying that she is engaged to Yankee outfielder Joe DiMaggio and that she "could have told you two weeks ago that Joe would be playing for the Red Sox next year."

In an article by Sports Writer Tom Fitzgerald, the pretty 24-year-old brunette was quoted further as saying that she was looking for an apartment here in Boston for next spring on the assumption that the slugging DiMaggio would be wearing a Red Sox uniform by then.

Saying that she and Joe had been friends for "some time." Miss Sharp told the Globe reporter that no date had yet been set for the wedding.

The writer said she showed him a large diamond engagement ring. Miss Sharp, currently appearing at the Hotel Touraine, said:

"Joe is motoring to the coast after the series with his six-year-old son. After I finish my current engagement I'll be driving to California, too."

"In the spring," she was quoted as saying, "I'll be in Sarasota, Fla., and I'm already looking for an apartment here in Boston."

The elder DiMaggio was married to Dorothy Arnold, movie actress, in November, 1939, and divorced in May, 1944. They had one son, Joe, Jr., aged six.

Miss Sharp has never been married.

Pitches Sunday

RANDY GUMPERT

Randy Gumpert, formerly with the Philadelphia Athletics and who hurled the entire 1946 American League season for the New York Yankees, will be on the mound for Joe DiMaggio's All Stars at municipal stadium Sunday afternoon in the game with the Hudson Valley Stars. Gumpert was secured for the game by Fred Davi, local promoter. Gumpert hurled for Davi's Waterbury Brasscos last year. Tomorrow's big attraction will start at 2:05 o'clock. There will be a play-by-play broadcast of the first world series game from St. Louis.

Crowd Expected At Local Stadium For Afternoon Tilt

Play-by-Play of Opening World Series Contest Will Be Given; Game Here Starts 2:05

Kingston's biggest attraction of the near-completed 1946 baseball season will be unfolded at municipal stadium Sunday afternoon starting at 2:05 o'clock when Joe DiMaggio's All Stars play the Hudson Valley Stars, managed by Bernard "Bud" Culloton. Interest in the game presages a big crowd.

Tomorrow's contest is expected to surpass the earlier two big dates when the Boston Braves and the Brooklyn Dodger Juniors appeared at the uptown ball orchard. Mounting interest in the tilt is built around the personal appearance of DiMaggio who will show his wares in the outfield.

DiMaggio's aggregation will appear here Sunday through the personal efforts of Fred Davi who has been about as busy as a last minute Christmas shopper in arranging this late season game. Fred has not only rounded up DiMag's club but has been very instrumental in securing valley stars for Manager Culloton's nine.

Will Broadcast Series

Baseball fans are reminded again that a complete play-by-play of Sunday's first world series game from St. Louis will be broadcast in its entirety from the stadium's press box. So fans who are anxious to see DiMaggio and the other stars here tomorrow will not have to miss the big game between the Cards and Red Sox over the air.

In addition to the great DiMag, the visiting All-Stars will have Carl Furillo, regular centerfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers this past season in the starting lineup. Furillo was signed Friday through personal contacts by Davi. Brooklyn Dodger fans are expected to come en masse to welcome Furillo Sunday afternoon.

Others in DiMag's lineup will be Dick Lajeskie, George Sternweiss, Bob Repass, Mickey Grasso, Randy Gumpert, Bob Sperry and Bob Mylanarski. Lajeskie and Grasso played with the Jersey City Giants through 1946 while Sternweiss and Gumpert need no introductions for their all-around play with the Yankees. Repass has just completed a few years with the Baltimore Orioles of the International League and Mylanarski is the property of the Detroit Tigers have in line.

Manager "Bud" Culloton's Hudson Valley Stars also will take the field tomorrow with a star-studded lineup including top-notch semi-pro stars of this area.

Tulacz Opposes Gumpert

Led by John "Whitey" Tulacz, ace hurler of the Poughkeepsie Rec Movers who will oppose Randy Gumpert on the mound tomorrow, the Valley Stars have a roster which should give the big leaguers a real battle. Tulacz is conceded to be the valley's number one hurler and Poughkeepsie fans are confident he can halt DiMag's combination.

A number of other Kingston favorites will be with the Stars for the big game including Kevin "Chuck" Connors, erstwhile Rec first sacker; Billy Ostrom, Andy Celuch, Ernie Downer, Charlie Neff, George Zadany and Bill Wmdburn.

Poughkeepsie is well represented in the valley lineup in addition to Ostrom and Downer. Others from the Bridge City Rec Movers slated to see action are Vinnie Crawford, Nick Miglio, "Red" Schlessinger and Wes Westrum. Austin Knickerbocker, who played a few games for Bill Whalen's club also is scheduled to appear here. Knick played with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League during the 1946 campaign and has recently been ordered to report to the Philadelphia Athletics next spring.

Howie Haveus, Newburgh; Ettore Grammaro, Newburgh and Warren Muller, former pitcher with the Hartford Senators, completes the Hudson Valley roster.

KHS '11' History

By IRWIN J. THOMAS

This is the 13th in a series of articles presenting an over-all summary of Kingston High School football teams from 1915 until the present day.

With practically the same forward wall of 1937 operating for him, Coach G. Warren Kias' 1938 Maroon and White varsity gridders opened the season with a 13 to 0 triumph over the strong Amsterdam Rugmakers. It was Amsterdam's first loss in years and a backfiield of Jimmy Ashdown, Bill "Curly" Cole, Jay DeWitt and Vince Stoll did the trick.

The veteran Maroon line included Joe Garland, Joe Clarke, Bill Powers, Bill Studer, Irv Rose, Jack Cook, and Bill Von Essen. Others to see action during the season as reserves were Ken Douglas, Andy Murphy, Jack Fallon, Johnny "Smoky" Ennis, Ed Esposito, George Celuch, Bill Darling, Fran Stauble, Buddy Ellsworth, Frank Mazzucca, Milt Tsitsera, Bob Messinger, Al Perry, John McCullough, Al Nock, Roger Goodsell and Gus Brinnier.

After downing Amsterdam in the opener, Kingston went on to humble the Liberty Redskins and scored an easy 39 to 0 victory. Kingston ran into trouble in the third encounter when Poughkeepsie turned the tide and posted a 20 to 0 win. The Maroons suffered their second straight setback when Port Jervis eked out a 14 to 12 DUSO League win.

Kingston finally returned to the win column by halting Middletown, 20-0. Highland and Newburgh proved to be stumbling blocks, however, as both squads dumped the Maroons by 6 to 0 scores.

Kias Quits as Coach

The year of 1939 didn't go down as any highlight season for K.H.S. but it did mark the final coaching year for the popular G. Warren Kias, who bowed out after 13 consecutive years as mentor of the Broadway eleven. During that regime Kias-coached teams won two DUSO League victories and won 50 games as against 42 defeats, and four tie games.

The 1939 squad nearly registered the third DUSO League flag for Kias but a 12 to 0 defeat in the final game by Newburgh took the title to the Hilly City.

Coach Kias also remained around long enough to have his warriors play the first football game at municipal stadium on September 30, 1939, when Amsterdam supplied the opposition. Kingston gave the departing coach a double birthday gift by winning, 20-19.

The Maroons copped two league victories during the '39 campaign by defeating Middletown, 18-13 and Port Jervis, 13-6. The final game with Newburgh was lost however and so was the DUSO League bunting.

7,000 Watch Game

Newburgh's 12 to 0 conquest not only gave the Hilly City eleven the league championship that year but it also took permanent possession of the coveted Hamilton Fish Trophy. The game attracted 7,000 fans at this Turkey Day clash in 1939 which was a record for all-time at any league contest.

The Kingston machine of '39 comprised such players as Jimmy Ashdown, John Ennis, Jay DeWitt, Jack Fallon, Joe Benjamin, Fred Tucker, Nick Lemister, Buddy Ellsworth, Bill Darling, Terwilliger, Fred Hofbauer, Al Perry, Al Nock and Ken Hopper.

At the end of the season Nock and Ashdown were nominated for All-DUSO honors while Hopper and Ellsworth were named for the second team. Kingston scored 64 points during 1939 and allowed 124. The team won three and dropped four.

Eight Are Dismissed

Moscow, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Ministry of State Control today dismissed eight high agricultural officials and responsible agrarian employes from the eastern regions of the U.S.S.R. and ordered them brought into court on charges of systematic crimes committed against collective farms. The defendants' crimes, the ministry said, include falsification of books, misuse of farm land in their own personal interest, embezzlement of arms funds and squandering farm money on parties and banquets.

Bowling

Major Bowling League

Five 600 scores were turned in during Thursday's Major League matches at the Central Rec alleys. The number one 600 was amassed by Spada of the Italian-American outfit who pounded the maples for 614 three-timer. His scores were 222, 224 and 168. Despite Spada's resounding triple, the restaurant five lost two games to the Hotel Ulster combine. Jack Schatzel's 589 and 212 sparked the winners.

Other 600 scores registered Thursday were Hod Spaulding with 611, Frank Russano with 609, E. Alward 606 and Harold Smith with 604.

Doblers continued their victory ways by downing Grunenwalds twice. George Robinson's 578 was high for the winners. Orv Van Alstyne rolled 539 for the Bakers.

Jones Dairy, highpowered by Hod Spaulding, E. Alward and Harold Smith, walloped Mickeys in three straight. Ken Williams and Ad Jones aided in the sweep as well with 566 and 539 triples. Russano's 609 topped the losers.

The Hofbrau keglers won all three from Hymes with Phil Masters and Johnny "Red" Sangi leading the way with 586 and 574 triples. LaRocca also blosted 574 for the winners. Lew Hymes rolled a 578 three-timer.

SEND GREETING:

Upon the petition of JAMES M. MURPHY of the City of Kingston

You and each of you are hereby cited to show cause, at a Surrogate's Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster, at the Surrogate's Office, in the City of Kingston, in said County, on the 14th day of October next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why a decree should not be made authorizing and directing James M. Murphy, as Administrator of the Goods, Chattels and Credits of Margaret O'Connor, deceased, late of the City of Kingston, to sell the real property of the decedent described in the petition herein for the payment of debts, funeral expenses and expenses of administration of said decedent.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have caused the seal of the said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness,

[L.S.] Hon. John B. Sterley, Surrogate of our said County, at the City of Kingston, the 13th day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-six.

$10,550 Raised For Boy Scouts in Kingston District

Boy Scout headquarters announced today that the total amount received to date in the Kingston district campaign of the Ulster-Greene Council is $10,550.13.

Prize winners are announced as follows:

The prize for the largest number of contributions obtained by any one campaigner was won jointly by Mrs. Elizabeth Tranker and Mrs. Winfield Lynn. Each of the winners has transferred her prize to a boy. Mrs. Tranker, in the Second Ward, has given her prize to Dick Smith, who will receive his first lesson in flying from Al Bennett, who is credited with having taught more children to fly than any other man in the world. Mrs. Lynn, from the Ninth Ward, is giving her prize to a scout in her ward who will be selected on a merit basis. This scout will also be taught to fly by Mr. Bennett.

The second prize winner, Harry LeFevre, Jr., who obtained the largest number of single contributions of $5 or more, will receive one hour of flight instruction from Thomas Heard, manager of the Kingston-Ulster Airport.

The third prize winner, Stanley Petro of the Third Ward, obtained the largest amount of money. He will be taken on an airplane trip to New York city and return.

Scout Headquarters has made a careful survey of the areas that have been covered in the campaign and finds that there are several unfinished spots, due to illness among the campaigners. These spots are now being covered by a special committee under the direction of Marion Radcliff, who was campaign chairman of the Second Ward. The following persons are assisting Mrs. Radcliff: Elizabeth Tranker, Joan A. Henry, Harriet Morrisey, Gladys Bashall, Wesley Hogan, and Donald Snyder. The areas to be covered by this committee are portions of the Eighth and Twelfth Wards. Several hundred dollars additional is expected as a result of this effort.

Headquarters announces that Jack Mooney, community campaign chairman of Rosendale, and his corps of campaigners were very successful in their community and that Mr. Mooney has awarded the following prizes: First prize, Mrs. Henry Ritter; second prize, Mrs. Robert Hicks; third prize, Mrs. James Hasbroucke; fourth prize, Miss Mildred Whitman and Miss Jean Fatum; fifth prize, Mrs. Walter Hiltebrant. These winners will receive their recognition in the form of airplane rides and instruction by Herman Frederick, manager of the Tillson airport.

Columbia Will Give Housing Needs Course

Attempting to throw light on one of the day's most puzzling problems, Columbia University's School of Architecture has launched a course devoted to a study of management-tenant relations and the housing needs of today's American family.

The course, which will be given each Wednesday evening at 7:00, is designed to aid members of real estate firms, architects, government employes engaged in housing work and others who are wrestling with problems of housing administration and management.

J. Marshall Miller, director of the Planning and Housing Division of the Columbia School of Architecture, will head the course, and lectures will be given by experts in several fields.

The lectures will deal with tenant needs, management and personnel policy, site and unit planning, special housing problems, and matters of management, operation and maintenance as they relate to planning and design.

Classes will be held in Avery Hall, the home of the School of Architecture, on Morningside Heights.

Dreamboat Nears Halfway Mark On Cairo Flight

London, Oct. 5 (AP)—The United States Army B-29, Pacusan Dreamboat, droned steadily through the cold and lonely arctic skies near the magnetic North Pole today, nearing the halfway mark on its great arc across the top of the world from Honolulu to Cairo.

The 74-ton craft and its crew of 10 fliers headed by Col. C. S., Levine of St. Paul, Neb., radioed at 4:30 a. m. (E.S.T) that it was over Pelleys Point, a little more than 100 miles southwest of the magnetic pole and roughly 4,000 miles from Honolulu.

The plane, exploring the Arctic as a travel route, was expected by its crew to soar over the Icelandic capital of Reykjavik at about 12:30 p. m. E.S.T. The crew asked for weather reports around Iceland.

From Iceland, the tentative course was over London, Paris, Bern, Rome, and across the Mediterranean to the Egyptian capital. At Reykjavik, the Dreamboat will be 6,084 miles from Honolulu on its projected 10,000 mile flight.

4-H CLUB NEWS

To Seek State Title

Ithaca, N. Y.—Eight zone winners representing all sections of the state will compete for state championship honors in the second annual New York 4-H poultry demonstration contest finals October 16 at Albany.

Efficient methods of production and marketing highlight the contest sponsored by the state 4-H Club office at Cornell University. Awards for zone winners and for state honors are provided by A & P Food Stores to encourage the educational activities of poultry club boys and girls.

Zone 8, which includes the counties of Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Suffolk, Sullivan and Ulster, will be represented in the program scheduled at the DeWitt Clinton Hotel by Clyde Selig of Pomona in Rockland county. He will present a demonstration explaining "Vaccinating Poultry." The zone winner was selected in a contest June 15 at Suffern.

Ulster Educators Will Meet in Wallkill, Oct. 14

An informal discussion of "The Teacher in the World Today" will highlight the conference program of the Ulster Educators at Wallkill Central School on Monday, October 14.

Other matters on the agenda, it has been announced, will be introduction of C. Everett Terwilliger, president of the Wallkill School board by Principal Robert J. Robinson and reports of five standing committees. Luncheon will be served in the school cafeteria at noon.

The devised list of committee chairmen follows:

Welfare—Ethel Haines of Highland; resolutions—Muriel Rall of Marlborough; public relations, Carlton Taylor of rural area; rural area nominations—Mabel Coons; rural area classroom teachers—Carolyn Munnelly.

Schools in the second supervisory district of Ulster county will be recessed for the day to allow teachers to attend the conference.

Local Death Record

Funeral services will be held in Marlborough Monday at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Cornelia Decker Atkins, 90, widow of Benjamin Atkins, who died in Kingston October 3. She made her home with a grandson, Hunter M. DeWitt, Marlborough until her last illness. Mrs. Atkins was born in Marlborough, daughter of William and Mary Elmendorf Decker. She was a member of the Marlborough Methodist Church. Surviving are nine grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Jesse B. Cook of Alligerville died suddenly this morning. He was 63 years of age. Besides his wife he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Bogart and Mrs. Virgil Bogart, Alligerville; two brothers, Charles Cook of Roselle, N. J., and Benjamin of Sawkill; also several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held from the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in the Kyserike Rural Cemetery. The Rev. Gerard Koster of Stone Ridge will officiate.

The funeral of Mary E. Kelly, lifelong and highly respected resident of High Falls, was held this morning at 9:30 from the George J. Moylan Funeral Home, Rosendale. At 10 o'clock in St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. William J. McDonald. Services were largely attended by relatives and friends. Friday evening the Rev. Father McDonald called at the funeral home and recited the Rosary. Burial was in the family plot in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale.

Ernest E. Billings, M.D., died at his residence, 103 St. James street, Friday evening. Funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence. Burial will take place in Montrepose cemetery. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. I. Stuart Williams, at home; a twin-brother, Erwin B. Billings of Delanson, N. Y. He was a member of both the state and county medical associations and was graduated from New York University in 1884. Dr. Billings has practiced medicine in Kingston for the past 27 years. He was a member of the First Dutch Reformed Church.

The funeral of Miss Mary A. Snyder, who died suddenly at her home in Connelly Wednesday evening, was held this morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Jenson & Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, and at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Francis Molony. The children's choir sang the responses and during the Mass at the offertory sang "Ave Maria." At the conclusion of the blessing, they also sang "O Jesu Deus Pacis." During the bereavement many friends and co-workers at the Hercules Powder Company visited the home to pay final tribute of respect to her memory and offered prayers in her behalf. Among those who called were the Very Rev. Martin Drury and Friday evening the Rev. John Flaherty led in the recitation of the Rosary. During the Mass the Rev. Msgr. Drury sat in the chancel and added his prayers for her spiritual welfare. Bearers were Arthur, Edgar and Francis Maurer, Daniel Cahill, John Snyder and Edward Sanford. Burial took place in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery where the Rev. Father Flaherty gave the final absolution at the grave.

Two Arrests Made

Two arrests on charges of public intoxication were made by the police last night. Both cases were disposed of today in police court. Tillie Freeman, 26, a negress of East Windrum Hill, Conn., was given a suspended sentence, and David McClain, 40, a negro of St. Paul, N. C., forfeited $10 bail by not appearing in court in answer to the charge.

Warmest Day

Friday was the warmest day so far this month with the official city thermometer recording a high of 76 degress during the afternoon. The lowest point reached last night was 48 degrees. Weather forecasts for the week-end predict continued warm weather.

Meads Asks Probe Of Meat 'Conspiracy'

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Senator Mead (D.-N. Y.) asked the Senate Small Business Committee today to investigate "whether a conspiracy exists on the part of big business" to keep meat from small independent stores.

It was the sixth request by Mead, who is Democratic candidate for governor of New York, for official action to determine what has happened to the nation's meat.

He previously appealed to (A) the attorney general, (B) the director of war mobilization and reconversion, (C) the secretary of agriculture, (D) the price administrator and (E) the surgeon general of the Public Health Service.

Mead recommended in a statement that the small business committee study the advisability of increasing the volume of slaughtering and processing by local slaughterers, and expansion of the activities of small meat packers.

He expressed the opinion that big food chains, with completely integrated meat producing operations, are able to draw consumers away from independent retail stores by supplying "such meat as is being permitted to get to the public."

Ulster Will Have Small 'War' Vote; 20 Are Received

Ulster county, like practically most of the rest of the country, will have a very small "war ballot" vote this fall compared with the past couple of years. To date there has been received at the Ulster County Board of Elections only 20 war ballots. Other absentee ballots thus far number about 65, which is the normal number to be received at this time. Few regular absentee ballots are sent in until after the last days of registration when the bulk of the absentee ballots begin to come in.

State election officials estimate that there are less than 700 war ballots received to date in the entire state. In 1945 there was a total of 480 ballots received in Ulster county.

Rapid discharge of men in service since the close of the war naturally is responsible for the decline in war ballot voting.
